

ROCKETS FACE FIVE FIGURE VENTILATOR

CONTESTS FROM 18 STATES TO BE HEARD

Tampering With Delegates Is Charged; Recession of Roosevelt Strength Indicated

By LOUIS SKINOLD
Chicago, June 20—There is a reasonably sound theory that almost anything is likely to happen in a Democratic national convention.

Confusion in the minds of leaders of the many hostile groups that will be represented in the convention that meets a week from today provides convincing evidence of this.

Instead of merely one fight like that over prohibition, at least five are in prospect for the Democratic candidates—especially Roosevelt—who may turn out to be less binding and conclusive than the various parties would like.

The decision of the Committee on Credentials will determine who will become permanent chairman, general contents of the platform, the prohibition issue and the identity of the President and Vice-President.

TAMPERING CHARGED
Significant reports of change of sentiment in state delegations have been finding their way into the Roosevelt and other camps with disturbing effect.

Translated into plain language, these rumors are predicated on a suspicion that "somebody is trying to get into the Roosevelt camp."

There are likely to be open contests or internal disputes affecting the delegates from 18 states with a total of 246 of the 1134 nominating delegates.

These states are Alabama, Arizona, Colorado, Indiana, Iowa, Louisiana, Michigan, North Dakota, Nebraska, South Dakota, Oregon, Washington and Wisconsin.

FIGHT TO BE SETTLED
Nine of these states have been counted as filling singly into the Roosevelt column.

The attitude of leaders supporting Roosevelt and those lined up behind his back, including Baker, Reed, White, Murray and Garner, clearly reflects determination to settle the matter before the credentials committee meets the convention.

Dog Races Start Tomorrow

By FRANKLIN COLLIER

O'CONNELL'S RUSH FOR SMITH

Pittsburgh, June 20 (INS)—M. Fred O'Connell of Pittsburgh, a multi-plighted delegate to the Democratic national convention, is making a dash for Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt, Saturday led to reports of defection in the ranks of Massachusetts convention delegates, has dispelled the defection talk with a statement that his visit to the New York Governor was purely social.

O'Connell's talk with Roosevelt, following a statement from John F. Smith, has been interpreted as a long way from the two-thirds or three-fourths vote necessary for nomination.

The Roosevelt people agreed several months ago to support W. Barkley of Kentucky for temporary chairman, and Charles McNary, executive chairman of the national executive committee, as permanent chairman. But they picked Roosevelt for the permanent chairman. They considered Shouse "too close" to the Smith-Raskob leadership.

Smith announced Roosevelt would be placed in nomination by John E. Mack of Poughkeepsie, who first put the New York Governor in politics by nominating him for the State Senate in 1918, and many years ago. Parley also announced that Shouse would be the Roosevelt forces would be Arthur Mullin of Nebraska.

Police Put Hitler Socialists to Rout
Berlin, June 20 (AP)—Adolf Hitler's National Socialists, who blossomed out again in new uniforms under a decree from the new cabinet, got the worst of it in rallies with state police in southern and western Germany over the week-end. Several hundred of them were arrested and many persons were injured.

Driver Arrested as Cyclist Is Killed
Biddford, June 20 (AP)—Robert Miller, 20, of Providence, R. I., was charged from his motorcycle by an auto yesterday and died later of his resultant injuries. The accident occurred near Old Orchard Beach.

Another Spree of Oratory

By ARTHUR 'BUGS' BAER

This is a Democratic year as our Irish drummers flit with burning horse wattlers.

Provided that the Jeffersonians get together and forget their old grudges and come together to scream like eagles.

The trouble with the Democrats is that they are all good orators. Remember when Josiah said to the whale, "If you hadn't opened your mouth I wouldn't be in this fix."

Josiah must have been the first Democrat.

Another thing is that the Democrats string out their conventions until they forget what it is all about.

They could learn from the Republicans, who were in and out of the house, pick their own man, and stand there like a man taking a cold shower.

POPE GIVES HIS HEART TO POPE'S ENVOY

By FRANKLIN COLLIER

Colorful Ceremony Greets Cardinal Lauri, Arriving for Eucharistic Congress

Dublin, June 20 (AP)—Ireland gave its heart away today to a smiling man in scarlet—Cardinal Lauri.

As the Pope's personal representative he will be the chief figure at the Eucharistic Congress here this week. Next Sunday he will celebrate a pontifical high mass before a million people in Phoenix park.

Long before his ceremonial landing at Kingstown quay, where Archbishop Byrne, primate of Ireland, and President De Valera, and lesser notables, welcomed him, thousands rimmed the route of the papal legate's triumphal procession to Dublin Pro-Cathedral for the solemn ecumenical reception.

Crowds of the faithful, not only traditionally smiling Irish, but French, Italian, Belgian, Polish, Southern Germans, brought to Erin by car and train, lined the route of the papal legate's triumphal procession to Dublin Pro-Cathedral for the solemn ecumenical reception.

As the Pope's personal representative he will be the chief figure at the Eucharistic Congress here this week. Next Sunday he will celebrate a pontifical high mass before a million people in Phoenix park.

Long before his ceremonial landing at Kingstown quay, where Archbishop Byrne, primate of Ireland, and President De Valera, and lesser notables, welcomed him, thousands rimmed the route of the papal legate's triumphal procession to Dublin Pro-Cathedral for the solemn ecumenical reception.

Crowds of the faithful, not only traditionally smiling Irish, but French, Italian, Belgian, Polish, Southern Germans, brought to Erin by car and train, lined the route of the papal legate's triumphal procession to Dublin Pro-Cathedral for the solemn ecumenical reception.

As the Pope's personal representative he will be the chief figure at the Eucharistic Congress here this week. Next Sunday he will celebrate a pontifical high mass before a million people in Phoenix park.

Long before his ceremonial landing at Kingstown quay, where Archbishop Byrne, primate of Ireland, and President De Valera, and lesser notables, welcomed him, thousands rimmed the route of the papal legate's triumphal procession to Dublin Pro-Cathedral for the solemn ecumenical reception.

Crowds of the faithful, not only traditionally smiling Irish, but French, Italian, Belgian, Polish, Southern Germans, brought to Erin by car and train, lined the route of the papal legate's triumphal procession to Dublin Pro-Cathedral for the solemn ecumenical reception.

PEOPLE

Who Interest You and What They Are Doing

Estate of Belasco Now Estimated at $1,500,000
New York, June 20—The estate of David Belasco, famous theatrical producer who died a year ago, last almost entirely.

His daughter, Reta Belasco, estimated at $1,500,000. It was revealed by a New York Times report that the estate was valued at $1,500,000. It was revealed by a New York Times report that the estate was valued at $1,500,000.

Rene Belasco Gave
For his daughter, the wife of Monroe, the estate was valued at $1,500,000. It was revealed by a New York Times report that the estate was valued at $1,500,000.

President Hibben in Last Baccalaureate at Princeton
Princeton, June 20—President John Grier Hibben of Princeton University, delivered his last baccalaureate address.

Al Smith Goes to Chicago Tomorrow
New York, June 20 (AP)—Al Smith will leave for Chicago tomorrow for the early arrival in Chicago for the Democratic convention.

Doris Humphrey Revealed as Bride of British Sailor
London, June 20 (AP)—Doris Humphrey, interpretive dancer, formerly with the Ballet Theatre, is married to a British sailor.

Princess Brodie Joins in Paris Social Finale
Paris, June 20—The Princess Brodie, who has been in Paris for some time, is attending a social gathering.

Princess Leopold Guarded as Death Plot Is Bared
Brussels, June 20—Special police protection is being given today to the Princess Leopold.

Walker May Write to Vindicate
New York, June 20—Mayor Walker may write to vindicate the faith of the voters in the mayor's office.

Hauser to Land at Miami Thursday
Miami, June 20—Felix Hauser, rescued at sea after his ship was sunk, is expected to land here Thursday.

Class Day Program Is Held at Wheaton
Wheaton, June 20—A class day program was held at Wheaton College today.

CARD GAME PAL DEATH SUSPECT

By ARTHUR 'BUGS' BAER

Rocco Alessandro, 40, of Hanover, was being sought today for questioning in the slaying of Basil C. Cavicola, 45, of Haverhill, who was slain in North Street, North End, Saturday night.

According to police, Alessandro is a frequent gambler and was seen at the time of the slaying. He is being sought for questioning in the slaying of Basil C. Cavicola, 45, of Haverhill, who was slain in North Street, North End, Saturday night.

A large part of the nearly 2000 acres of Phoenix park is owned by the city. It is being sought for questioning in the slaying of Basil C. Cavicola, 45, of Haverhill, who was slain in North Street, North End, Saturday night.

The slaying of Cavicola is being sought for questioning in the slaying of Basil C. Cavicola, 45, of Haverhill, who was slain in North Street, North End, Saturday night.

A large part of the nearly 2000 acres of Phoenix park is owned by the city. It is being sought for questioning in the slaying of Basil C. Cavicola, 45, of Haverhill, who was slain in North Street, North End, Saturday night.

The slaying of Cavicola is being sought for questioning in the slaying of Basil C. Cavicola, 45, of Haverhill, who was slain in North Street, North End, Saturday night.

Man With $1600 Roll Is Found in Stupor

By ARTHUR 'BUGS' BAER

With $1600 in his pocket, Harry Shapiro, 38, of Brighton St., Boston, lay for three hours in a stupor on the sidewalk yesterday.

Shapiro, who was found by police, was taken to the hospital. He is being sought for questioning in the slaying of Basil C. Cavicola, 45, of Haverhill, who was slain in North Street, North End, Saturday night.

A large part of the nearly 2000 acres of Phoenix park is owned by the city. It is being sought for questioning in the slaying of Basil C. Cavicola, 45, of Haverhill, who was slain in North Street, North End, Saturday night.

The slaying of Cavicola is being sought for questioning in the slaying of Basil C. Cavicola, 45, of Haverhill, who was slain in North Street, North End, Saturday night.

A large part of the nearly 2000 acres of Phoenix park is owned by the city. It is being sought for questioning in the slaying of Basil C. Cavicola, 45, of Haverhill, who was slain in North Street, North End, Saturday night.

The slaying of Cavicola is being sought for questioning in the slaying of Basil C. Cavicola, 45, of Haverhill, who was slain in North Street, North End, Saturday night.

PICK BOY 15.45 BANDIT

By ARTHUR 'BUGS' BAER

A 15-year-old South Boston boy, arrested as a delinquent, was picked today by a police lineup today as one of three bandits who staged a $27,000 holdup last Sunday.

Charles Taylor of Darling St., Dorchester, clerk in a chain store, was the first to pick the boy. He was charged with the slaying of Basil C. Cavicola, 45, of Haverhill, who was slain in North Street, North End, Saturday night.

A large part of the nearly 2000 acres of Phoenix park is owned by the city. It is being sought for questioning in the slaying of Basil C. Cavicola, 45, of Haverhill, who was slain in North Street, North End, Saturday night.

The slaying of Cavicola is being sought for questioning in the slaying of Basil C. Cavicola, 45, of Haverhill, who was slain in North Street, North End, Saturday night.

A large part of the nearly 2000 acres of Phoenix park is owned by the city. It is being sought for questioning in the slaying of Basil C. Cavicola, 45, of Haverhill, who was slain in North Street, North End, Saturday night.

The slaying of Cavicola is being sought for questioning in the slaying of Basil C. Cavicola, 45, of Haverhill, who was slain in North Street, North End, Saturday night.

Three Injured in Middleton Crash

By ARTHUR 'BUGS' BAER

Middleton, June 20—Three persons were seriously injured and two killed today in a collision on Route 1, near the intersection of Route 1 and Route 2.

A large part of the nearly 2000 acres of Phoenix park is owned by the city. It is being sought for questioning in the slaying of Basil C. Cavicola, 45, of Haverhill, who was slain in North Street, North End, Saturday night.

The slaying of Cavicola is being sought for questioning in the slaying of Basil C. Cavicola, 45, of Haverhill, who was slain in North Street, North End, Saturday night.

A large part of the nearly 2000 acres of Phoenix park is owned by the city. It is being sought for questioning in the slaying of Basil C. Cavicola, 45, of Haverhill, who was slain in North Street, North End, Saturday night.

The slaying of Cavicola is being sought for questioning in the slaying of Basil C. Cavicola, 45, of Haverhill, who was slain in North Street, North End, Saturday night.

A large part of the nearly 2000 acres of Phoenix park is owned by the city. It is being sought for questioning in the slaying of Basil C. Cavicola, 45, of Haverhill, who was slain in North Street, North End, Saturday night.

Death Mystery Cleared

By ARTHUR 'BUGS' BAER

Worcester, June 20—Medical Examiner Frederick H. Baker gave natural causes as the reason for the sudden death of Mrs. Priscilla E. Oliver, 28, who died in a lodging house yesterday.

A large part of the nearly 2000 acres of Phoenix park is owned by the city. It is being sought for questioning in the slaying of Basil C. Cavicola, 45, of Haverhill, who was slain in North Street, North End, Saturday night.

The slaying of Cavicola is being sought for questioning in the slaying of Basil C. Cavicola, 45, of Haverhill, who was slain in North Street, North End, Saturday night.

A large part of the nearly 2000 acres of Phoenix park is owned by the city. It is being sought for questioning in the slaying of Basil C. Cavicola, 45, of Haverhill, who was slain in North Street, North End, Saturday night.

The slaying of Cavicola is being sought for questioning in the slaying of Basil C. Cavicola, 45, of Haverhill, who was slain in North Street, North End, Saturday night.

A large part of the nearly 2000 acres of Phoenix park is owned by the city. It is being sought for questioning in the slaying of Basil C. Cavicola, 45, of Haverhill, who was slain in North Street, North End, Saturday night.

Wife of Railway Manager Ends Life

By ARTHUR 'BUGS' BAER

North Attleboro, June 20—Mrs. Grace D. Wells, 42, wife of George W. Wells, general manager of the Fall River Railway, committed suicide at her apartment in High Street yesterday.

A large part of the nearly 2000 acres of Phoenix park is owned by the city. It is being sought for questioning in the slaying of Basil C. Cavicola, 45, of Haverhill, who was slain in North Street, North End, Saturday night.

The slaying of Cavicola is being sought for questioning in the slaying of Basil C. Cavicola, 45, of Haverhill, who was slain in North Street, North End, Saturday night.

A large part of the nearly 2000 acres of Phoenix park is owned by the city. It is being sought for questioning in the slaying of Basil C. Cavicola, 45, of Haverhill, who was slain in North Street, North End, Saturday night.

The slaying of Cavicola is being sought for questioning in the slaying of Basil C. Cavicola, 45, of Haverhill, who was slain in North Street, North End, Saturday night.

A large part of the nearly 2000 acres of Phoenix park is owned by the city. It is being sought for questioning in the slaying of Basil C. Cavicola, 45, of Haverhill, who was slain in North Street, North End, Saturday night.

Man With $1600 Roll Is Found in Stupor

By ARTHUR 'BUGS' BAER

With $1600 in his pocket, Harry Shapiro, 38, of Brighton St., Boston, lay for three hours in a stupor on the sidewalk yesterday.

Shapiro, who was found by police, was taken to the hospital. He is being sought for questioning in the slaying of Basil C. Cavicola, 45, of Haverhill, who was slain in North Street, North End, Saturday night.

A large part of the nearly 2000 acres of Phoenix park is owned by the city. It is being sought for questioning in the slaying of Basil C. Cavicola, 45, of Haverhill, who was slain in North Street, North End, Saturday night.

The slaying of Cavicola is being sought for questioning in the slaying of Basil C. Cavicola, 45, of Haverhill, who was slain in North Street, North End, Saturday night.

A large part of the nearly 2000 acres of Phoenix park is owned by the city. It is being sought for questioning in the slaying of Basil C. Cavicola, 45, of Haverhill, who was slain in North Street, North End, Saturday night.

The slaying of Cavicola is being sought for questioning in the slaying of Basil C. Cavicola, 45, of Haverhill, who was slain in North Street, North End, Saturday night.

Wife of Railway Manager Ends Life

By ARTHUR 'BUGS' BAER

North Attleboro, June 20—Mrs. Grace D. Wells, 42, wife of George W. Wells, general manager of the Fall River Railway, committed suicide at her apartment in High Street yesterday.

A large part of the nearly 2000 acres of Phoenix park is owned by the city. It is being sought for questioning in the slaying of Basil C. Cavicola, 45, of Haverhill, who was slain in North Street, North End, Saturday night.

The slaying of Cavicola is being sought for questioning in the slaying of Basil C. Cavicola, 45, of Haverhill, who was slain in North Street, North End, Saturday night.

A large part of the nearly 2000 acres of Phoenix park is owned by the city. It is being sought for questioning in the slaying of Basil C. Cavicola, 45, of Haverhill, who was slain in North Street, North End, Saturday night.

The slaying of Cavicola is being sought for questioning in the slaying of Basil C. Cavicola, 45, of Haverhill, who was slain in North Street, North End, Saturday night.

A large part of the nearly 2000 acres of Phoenix park is owned by the city. It is being sought for questioning in the slaying of Basil C. Cavicola, 45, of Haverhill, who was slain in North Street, North End, Saturday night.

450,000 VOTES OF BONUS ARMY HURLED INTO DRIVE

PLATES ARE EMPTY. BUT THEY STILL CARRY ON

AIMEE LYNAL TO HUTTON IN GRL'S $200,000 SUIT

Photo Did It

The story of how her picture won a contract in talking pictures was revealed when Miss Betty Furness, 16, arrived in Hollywood, Miss Furness got her contract the day after her graduation from a girl school, after a photographer sent her picture to Lee RKO, vice-president of RKO.

CASH PAYMENT AND REPEAL 2 PLANKS

Vets Enter Politic: and Send Envoy to Chicago With a Plea to Democrats

By EDWARD B. LOCKETT
International News Service Staff Correspondent

Washington, June 20 (INS)—The bonus army has gone in for politics.

There were 22,000 veterans in the army and they have thrown their weight behind a two-plank platform which they hope will be part of the program of the party which elects a President next November.

Above all, the veterans' platform called for cash payment of soldiers' adjusted compensation certificates; secondly, it called for repeal of the prohibition law.

On this simple program the veterans are ready to go to the polls next fall. Their leader, Walter W. Waters, of Portland, Ore., claimed every veteran had control of three votes—and he asserted there would be 150,000 veterans in the capital by voting time.

PLEA TO DEMOCRATS
Waters plans to elaborate on the platform of his men, but he will emphasize the demand for veterans' relief legislation and repeal of prohibition.

The legislative representative of the army, Harold B. Foulkard of Philadelphia, was en route to Chicago today to present the platform of the veterans to the Democratic national committee's platform committee. The veterans have not been assured of a hearing by the platform committee, but Foulkard said before leaving he was certain the committee would hear what he had to say, even if no action were taken.

The District government today had, to all appearances, almost capitulated to the demands of the warring army of bonus-seekers. The veterans have occupied a number of buildings which police earlier said they could not move into, and outside of a mild protest in which case, no action has been taken. They remained in the buildings today.

FOOD, CASH ARRIVING
Leaders of the bonus army reported a treasury of approximately $500,000, and added that more money and additional food were being sent to Washington daily. Long lines of trucks bearing food supplies are lined up to the truth of the statements.

Police continued to report that a large number of the marchers were leaving daily, but their number was more than made up by the incoming. At least 200 "recruiting officers" of the veterans' army were on trips designed to add to the thousands of men camping here. Waters asserted the policy of strict orderliness would be carefully enforced, but he added that he and his colleagues were making every effort to reduce the number of marchers here.

We're Just Beginning to Fight, Veteran Says

By R. W. CARMICHAEL

(Veteran 176th Regiment, U. S. Marines, Honorably Discharged August 11, 1919)

Written Expressly for Universal Service

Washington, June 20—They tied a tin hat on our heads in 1917 and they are attempting to tie a tin can on our tails in 1932. But the veterans here in Washington do not intend to have that operation performed. We have other uses for the tin cans. They make fine coffee cups.

First Defeat Expected

We regard the bonus defeat as a temporary licking and were prepared for it. It is just a temporary setback. The real siege of Washington is just beginning. The recruiting has just begun. Veterans have left here for all sections of the country to organize new regiments of bonus marchers. So many recruiting parties have left that the Washington police think a general evacuation is under way.

But instead of being deserters these men have credentials with a regimental O. K. stamped in encephalic letters, reading that "The leavers have the authority to recruit men and provisions for the Bonus Expeditionary Force in Washington, D. C."

We, the veterans here, have a big job before us. It is up to us to make arrangements for suitable sanitary quarters for the marchers. So many recruiting parties have left that the boys left behind will have a hard time to make arrangements for those who are to come.

Backed by Boys at Home

We do not want them to suffer the hardships that we have had to endure.

It is almost unbelievable that with the 20,000 veterans that are camped here that it has not been necessary for the police to make a single arrest.

This can be attributed to the type of men and their grim determination to see the thing through. They are resolved that there will be no misdeeds that will jeopardize their chances.

Wires and letters of encouragement flow into headquarters incessantly from all sections of our nation. Offers of aid of all kinds are being made. It gives us courage when our countrymen tell us they are behind us.

With their ration of the vanishing stage and threats of eviction hurled at them, the men who helped to make the world safe for democracy in the great war remained in Washington today, determined to hang on until they get satisfaction from Congress. In the meantime, the bonus army marchers have announced they find Hoover unsuitable for re-election. They will pass judgment on the Democratic nominee after he is named. Efforts are being made to have the American Legion back the bonus army's fight. (L.N.R.)

GIRL IS HURT IN TRIPLE CRASH

Brookline, June 20—Miss Florence Knight, 25, of Franklin ave., this city, was slightly injured in a triple collision of automobiles shortly after midnight on Montello st. The woman was a passenger with four other persons in the automobile operated by Walter McCarthy of Skinner st. The machine continued when it collided with the two other automobiles. Miss Knight was treated for slight cuts and bruises. The other automobiles were operated by Hans C. Nelson of Plymouth st., East Weymouth, and John B. Roberts of Fulton st., this city.

INJURED IN LEXINGTON CAR COLLISION

Two of the six victims of the automobile collision at Bedford and Reed sts., North Lexington, were Helen Tipton, 21, with a broken collarbone, and her sister, Evelyn, 8. They are the daughters of Wallace E. Tipton of Den-

LOCUST PLAGUES LAID TO NATURE'S MOB PSYCHOLOGY

Brookline, N. Y., June 20 (AP)—The locust plague of the Bible and the modern grasshopper pest alike were the products of a strange mob psychology in nature. The discovery of their source was made public today at Cornell University. Merely crowding grasshoppers together in small companies or mobs changes them, physically. They get excited, lose temper, and they jump immensely farther and eat more. This fact was proven by Dr. J. C. Faure. By putting solitary, harmless grasshoppers together in large cages he transferred them into plague locusts.

AUTO HITS TREE, THREE INJURED

A man and two women were injured, one of the latter seriously, when their automobile crashed into a tree in Worcester at Wednesday, about daybreak today.

Mrs. Catherine Gagnon of La Salle st., West Roxbury, who only recently recovered from an operation, suffered a crushed chest and internal injuries. Her husband, Leo, who was driving, was cut and bruised, and Miss Beatrice Moran of Lynnville ter., Dorchester, suffered lacerations and a knee injury.

The crash which demolished the car, was heard by Serg. O'Day and Patrolman Walsh, who were cruising in a police machine. They took the victims to the infirmary of Dr. Robert Barton.

SIX INJURED IN AUTO CRASH

Six persons, including four members of one family, were hurt in a collision between two automobiles at Bedford and Reed sts., North Lexington. Most seriously injured was Helen Tipton, 21, of Denmarke ave., East Milton, who received a broken collarbone and a cut on the back of the head but went home after treatment at Symmes Arlington Hospital. The little girl was riding with her father, Wallace E. Tipton, her mother, Mrs. Lena Tipton, and sister, Evelyn, eight. The other car was driven by Louis M. McShane Jr., of Boston at New Bedford. Elizabeth Donald, eight, of Easton ave., Fall River, riding with him, received a cut on the cheek. Mary Costa of Dartmouth st., New Bedford, received bruises. Marjorie, Mrs. Elizabeth Donald, mother of the little girl, and Antonio Costa were shaken up.

NURSE CHARGES BETRAYAL BY CHOIR SINGER

Attorneys Promise Sensations at Trial; Client in Hiding After Alleged Threats

Los Angeles, June 20—Aimee Semple McPherson-Hutton, evangelist of Angelus Temple, will "attack by Dave through thick and thin," she declared today as the $200,000 heart balm suit brought against her husband, David Hutton, choir singer, by Miss Myrtle St. Pierre, pretty Pasadena nurse, was called in Superior Court.

Miss St. Pierre alleged that Hutton betrayed her under promise of marriage during a "love song romance" and that her breach of promise suit was inspired by a radio broadcast from the bridal suite of Mrs. Hutton and Hutton following their airplane "elopement" and marriage at Yuma, Arizona.

A district attorney's investigation failed to hear out Hutton's assertion that he was being blackmailed. Miss St. Pierre charged she had been threatened with death since she filed suit.

SENSATIONS PROMISED
The attractive young nurse's attorneys promised to provide several sensations during the trial, while Hutton's attorneys were armed, they said, with documents to prove that Miss St. Pierre twice was married and divorced before she met Hutton.

Att. Curran Andrews, representing Miss St. Pierre, today said "death threats" had so terrified his client that she had moved to a place of seclusion in the country. He added that he would ask a special judge of deputy sheriff in the courtroom today.

Meanwhile Mrs. McPherson Hutton was suffering from "post-union nervousness" and "under the case of Dr. T." said Hutton. William, psychiatrist, and nerve specialist. He ordered that all news of the trial be kept from the temple.

THREAT OF DEATH

Explaining his charges of "death threat," Att. Andrews said: "People have been calling me up and telling me Miss St. Pierre would never have a chance to get into the courtroom and I have been told that I would be killed. That I couldn't show up. This way and get away with it."

JAMES MURPHY TAKEN BY DEATH

James S. Murphy, 41, pioneer in the Boston space industry and brother of John R. Murphy, former commissioner, died today at the Swamscott home of his daughter.

Murphy's home was at 1515 Beacon st., Brookline, but he was taken to his daughter's home, 127 Puritan st., Swampscott, a month ago, suffering from hardening of the arteries.

Born in Charleston in 1891, he attended the Harvard grammar school and Charlestown high. He began his business career with a chemical concern at the age of 17. Forty years ago he became treasurer of the Shelden & Poor Spin Co. and was made its president in 1909.

Murphy was director of several banks, insurance companies and manufacturing concerns. His second wife died last March. His first wife died in 1914.

In addition to his brother, Murphy leaves two sons and a daughter. James S. Murphy, Jr., Robert S. Murphy and Mrs. John G. Beebe, Gloucester.

AIMEE IN TRIANGLE FIGHT

Just After Wedding—Aimee Semple McPherson Hutton smiled a happy smile as the camera caught her clasping the hand of her new husband, David Hutton. (Picture from International News Photo-graph Service.)

STOLEN PURSE FOUND BY DOG

"Blackie" is only a mongrel doggie, but he learns his lessons well—when placed him in an embarrassing position after the weekend.

The dog, owned by J. J. Sullivan of Antioch st., Cambridge, started the party, while sunbathing at Silver lake, Wilmington, of carrying home articles he had picked out of the lake and almost any hour. "Blackie" is able to bring home almost anything.

Yesterday he returned home with a woman's handbag, a good handbag, and his master turned it over to Cambridge police, who identified it as one snatched from Miss Sarah Scowden of Hollis ave., Cambridge, Saturday night.

"Blackie" was vindicated, however when police searched his master and Miss Marie Elmer, 10, a neighborhood playmate of the pet, that the theft was committed by four youths.

Monoxide Gas Victim

Poll River, June 20—George Young, of Pine street, was found overcome by carbon monoxide yesterday. Young was sent to Union Hospital, still unconscious.

THE BOSTON FIVE CENTS SAVINGS BANK

ANNOUNCES THAT ITS

SAVINGS BANK LIFE INSURANCE

DEPARTMENT

will occupy new and larger quarters at

22 SCHOOL STREET, BOSTON

MONDAY, JUNE 20TH

(V)

Savings Bank Life Insurance is written in the following forms: Straight Life, Limited Payment Life, Endowment, Term, Infantile, Group, and Insurance Protection combined with a Savings Account. Many attractive plans are available in this life, low-cost, State-supervised Insurance.

Annuitant—The purchase of Annuities which yield guaranteed monthly income for life has become an increasingly popular method of providing for the future. Full information about Annuities may be had at our Savings Bank Life Insurance Department.

FLEA IS TYPHUS VACCINE

Doctors Grind Them Up for Pigs

Washington, June 20 (AP)—A new vaccine to fight one form of the dread typhus parasite was announced today by the United States public health service.

Flea ground up and injected into guinea pigs, from the base of the vaccine. The flea, living on guinea pigs, carries the American form of typhus, which, although pestilential, is seldom fatal. The vaccine

Crash Into Hydrant Causes His Arrest

North Andover, June 20 (AP)—Police Officer H. McKee was awakened out of a sound sleep by loud crash directly in front of his home in Church st. He went to the street to find the side of a Buick sedan, owned by Mrs. Lawrence, resting heavily over the base of a hydrant. The hydrant itself had been swung off its base and was lying on its side.

The officer placed him under arrest on charges of driving while under the influence of liquor and drunkenness.

PIRATE KEEL

IN BOAT CRASH

In the belief that a horror pirate had crashed when a stolen motor launch crashed into Central wharf at North Boston, police officers searched for his body and then—

The stolen craft, the Beethoven Two, was taken from the East Boston pier, of the 13th Street Shipbuilding Co., four hours before it plunged full speed into the piling of Central wharf.

Employees of Central wharf said it steered an erratic course before the plunge.

The craft was hauled from its wedged position in the piling and showed signs that no one in the pilot house could have escaped from the howl and sides were badly scraped and small pieces of glass were in the cockpit.

MIDGET WELCOMED BACK

Forgiven by His Wife for Divorce Suit

Provincetown, June 20—Although her midget husband had vowed that if he had anything to say regarding the refusal of the court to grant him a divorce, Knowles, stage midget, declared she was willing to forgive and forget.

While Mrs. Knowles waved the olive branch, her tiny husband, the smallest automobile driver in the State, was in North Truro preparing to open up a summer inn, unhindered by his wife.

Asked if he had anything to say regarding the refusal of the court to grant him a divorce, Knowles, stage midget, declared she was willing to forgive and forget.

AMERICA BACK FROM FLIGHT

Planes Return to Land

New York, June 20 (AP)—Auntie Earhart Putnam, first woman to pilot an airplane across the Atlantic, returned home today to receive their laudis of her fellow countrymen.

A crowd estimated by police at 5000 gathered in Battery Park as the fleet stepped back on American soil from the city boat Riverfront, which had transferred her and her husband, George Palmer Putnam, from the liner Le De France.

Big Bonus Army Plans for Painful Surprise

By Elsie Robinson

Washington, June 20 (INS)—This is no time for loose talk. Whether you do or do not sympathize with the bonus expeditionary force, you should know the truth. For this is not spot news—it is history.

Here are facts. The B. E. F. is not dismayed by the failure of the bonus bill. It was expected. More over, President Hoover had publicly announced that he would veto the bill, even if both houses passed it.

Washington Is Due for Painful Surprise

All this was foretold by the marchers before they left home. For two years poverty had closed around them in a tightening circle. Funds exhausted. Banks worked. Mortgages foreclosed. Bonuses withheld. Administration promises unfulfilled. Relief programs ignored. At last there was but one way out—the road to Washington.

Why did these men come here? Why are they not turning back? That is why.

You cannot grasp the significance of this expedition unless you realize the desperation that lay behind it and that now forces it to hold firm. Washington still expects warring wakers, expects evaded funds, a painful surprise.

RUSSIA-JAPAN WAR TALK HIT

By FRAZER HUNT

Copyright, 1933, by Universal Service, Inc.

It is possible that the Russo-Japanese war may be a "blow away." This was the statement made to me by the Moscow correspondent of the Associated Press, whose headquarters are in Shanghai.

"The number of Soviet troops in the Manchurian border has been vastly exaggerated. We have somewhere near the 100,000 men the foreign newspapers report."

"Six months ago there was much talk about Japanese aggressions leading to the possibility of war. But that is over. Certainly the Soviets have not made a move against Japan."

Their Only Hope Lies in Washington

The B. E. F. took the road and anticipated every hardship and humiliation. They possibly did not expect the President to ignore the marchers. They possibly did not expect the President to ignore the marchers. They possibly did not expect the President to ignore the marchers.

GOOD SUCCESS WAS FOILED

Oakland, Cal., June 20 (US)—"I'm glad I didn't die."

Her identity no longer a mystery, Mrs. Clara Farmer, daughter of Walter Wellman, noted explorer and planner, who attempted suicide by jumping from a bridge over the San Francisco bay, was found today in a hospital in Oakland.

WENT ROUND THE WORLD

Chicago, June 20 (AP)—Another Capone figured in the newspaper headlines today—Albert Capone, the youngest of four surviving brothers, two of whom, Al and Ralph, who made gangland history in Chicago.

Albert was questioned by police in Chicago in connection with an attempt yesterday to bomb the home of Mayor Joseph G. Cermak, whose election last April was hailed as a death blow to Capone's rule in Chicago.

WICKERSHAM URGES Debt Settlement

New York, June 20—A national convention to convince Congress of the wisdom of taking action seeking an immediate settlement of intergovernmental debts, reparations, trade barriers and other basic problems underlying the depression, was announced today by George W. Wickersham, former attorney-general of the United States and acting in his capacity as president of the League of Nations Association.

ANN BURLAK ENTERS Mayoralty Fight

Pawtucket, R. I., June 20—Ann Burlak, Communist labor agitator, who had been in the mayoralty fight in Pawtucket, was announced last night after a conference of leaders.

Chander & Co.

Tremont at West Street

SALE

Famous for Style and Quality for Over a Century

Silk Stockings
 Clifton, vent-cliffon, orig. 1.00, price 85c
 McCallum chiffon, semi-servise, orig. 1.35, price 95c
 Century Brach chiffon stockings, orig. 1.35, price 95c

* All silk lace and mesh stockings, all new summer shades, special price 87c

Knitted Suits, Sweaters
 Slip-on sweaters, orig. 3.00 and 3.95, price 1.95
 Slip-on sweaters, orig. 4.75, price 2.95
 Flannel sport skirts, orig. 3.95, price 1.95
 Sport knit dresses, orig. 3.95, price 3.95
 Slip-on sweaters, as is, reduced to 80c
 Slip-on sweaters, Darn-mesh, orig. 4.95, price 95c
 All wool coat sweaters, orig. 3.00, price 1.95
 Knitted sport suits, 3-pc., orig. 16.75, price 12.75
 3-piece, knitted sport suits, orig. 7.95, price 5.95
 Boucle knit dresses, orig. 16.75, 17.75, price 12.75

Gloves
 Imported suede gloves, orig. 1.45, 1.95, price 1.00
 Long fabric gloves, orig. 1.00, price 65c
 Novelty kid gloves, orig. 1.45, price 85c
 Hand-sewn fabric gloves, orig. 1.45, 2.35, price 85c
 Novelty fabric gloves, orig. 1.50-2.00, price 50c

* Fabric gloves, single and double woven, in 4 and 5-button lengths, 85c

Blouses
 Blouse and crepe blouses, orig. 3.85, 5.75, price 2.95
 Satin and crepe blouses, orig. 5.75, 7.95, price 3.85
 Crepe blouses, orig. 2.95, price 1.95
 Crepe silk blouses, orig. 1.95, price 1.00
 Satin and crepe blouses, orig. 4.95, price 3.45
 Printed crepe blouses, orig. 4.95, price 3.45
 Crepe and satin blouses, orig. 2.95 to 3.85, price 1.95
 Satin overblouses, orig. 10.75, price 5.75

Hats
 Angora hats, sports brims, orig. 5.00, price 2.95
 Turbans, orig. 2.95, price 1.95
 Fluffy straws, pastels, orig. 3.00, price 1.95
 Turbans, orig. 5.00, price 2.95
 Dark straw hats, orig. 3.00, price 1.95
 Dark straw hats, orig. 2.95, price 1.95
 Belt hats, orig. 2.95, price 1.75
 Belt hats, orig. 3.00, price 1.95
 Dark straws, orig. 2.50, 5.00, price 1.95
 Plain straws, orig. 3.00, price 1.95

Knit Underwear
 Rayon panties, bloomers, etc., orig. 1.00, price 45c
 Rayon 2 and 3-pc. pajamas, orig. 2.00, 4.50, price 1.00
 Berner's vests, bloomers, orig. 7.00, 1.15, 4.50
 Tailored Alliance bloomers, orig. 1.45, 2.35, 4.50
 Rayon gowns, Alliance trim, orig. 2.00, price 1.00

Bags
 Leather bags, orig. 1.95, price 50c
 Leather bags, one-of-a-kind, orig. 3.00, 3.85, 1.95

Slips
 Satin crepe de Chine slips, orig. 2.00, price 95c
 Crepe de Chine slips, orig. 1.50, price 95c
 Rayon silk slips, orig. 3.00, 5.75, price 3.95
 Crepe de Chine, satin slips, orig. 3.95, price 2.95

THIS DRASTIC MARKDOWN SALE takes place now rather than later in the month, because we want our customers to take advantage of "low prices marked still lower"—and to have more time to enjoy wearing the great bargains obtainable. Prices on fine quality coats; dresses, underwear, accessories, house furnishings, have been lower this past spring than ever before. The fact that we are reducing low prices 25 to 50% makes this a sale of tremendous importance. All a bargain you cannot afford to miss, for this clearance will be thorough in every department.

Intermediate markdowns have been taken in many cases. *Sterred items are special purchases.

Women's Dresses—Second Floor
 Printed silk dresses, jackets, orig. 39.50, price 19.75
 Lace dresses, orig. 79.50, 69.00, price 25.00
 Chiffon dinner dresses, orig. 69.00, price 49.50
 Printed eve. gowns, orig. 39.50, 58.00, price 29.75
 Chiffon dinner dresses, orig. 49.50, price 39.50
 Lace eve. gowns, orig. 39.50, price 29.75
 Lace eve. gowns, orig. 58.00, 78.00, price 35.00
 Crepe afternoon dresses, orig. 29.75, 39.50, 58.00
 Crepe dresses, headed, orig. 39.50, price 29.75
 Eve. gowns, of a kind, orig. 39.50, price 13.75
 Crepe 2-piece dress, jackets, orig. 39.50, price 35.00
 Georgette dresses, orig. 58.00, price 39.50
 Old silk dresses, orig. 49.50, price 29.75
 Printed, plain silk dresses, 39.50, 49.50, orig. 29.75
 Printed crepe dresses, with lace, orig. 39.50, 29.75
 Crepe dresses, with print, orig. 39.50, price 29.75
 Crepe dresses, contrast blouse, orig. 39.50, 25.00
 Georgette dresses, orig. 39.50, price 19.75
 Printed chit. jacket dresses, orig. 39.50, price 25.00
 Georgette dresses, orig. 19.75, price 19.75
 Crepe dress, patch, orig. 39.50, price 19.75

Women's Dresses—Third Floor
 Print dresses, jackets, orig. 29.75, 39.50, price 13.75
 Crepe dresses, headed, orig. 39.50, 19.75, price 13.75
 Crepe dresses with cold blouse, orig. 25.00, orig. 7.50
 Crepe dresses, headed, orig. 39.50, price 19.75
 Crepe dresses, bkl., brown, navy, orig. 25.00, 13.75
 Old dresses, orig. 39.50, price 7.50
 Old dresses of silk crepe, orig. 25.00, price 13.75
 Crepe dresses with lace trim, orig. 25.00, price 15.00
 Chit. dresses, print sh' top, jackets, orig. 25.00, 7.50
 Crepe dress, patch, orig. 39.50, price 7.50

Women's Dresses—Fourth Floor
 Tailored two-piece crepe dresses, orig. 22.50, 13.85
 Crepe dresses, headed, 16.75, 19.75, price 8.00
 Onondaga pure dye pr. dresses, 16.75, price 10.00
 Pure dye silk dresses, orig. 16.75, price 8.00
 Printed silk dresses, orig. 22.50, price 13.75
 Pure dye jacket dresses, 15.00, 22.50, price 10.00
 Silk and wool dresses, orig. 18.75, price 8.00
 Mallinson's print dresses, orig. 22.50, price 10.00

Millinery—Second Floor
 Rough straws and Baku, orig. 10.00, price 5.00
 Rough and novelty straw hats, orig. 3.25, price 1.00
 Rough straw youthful hats, orig. 12.50, price 10.00
 Novelty straw hats, orig. 15.00, price 12.50
 Flower turbans, orig. 25.00, price 12.50
 Novelty straw hats, ribbon, ostrich trim, 12.50, 7.50
 Novelty straw hats, orig. 15.00, price 12.50

Sportswear—Fourth Floor
 French knitted dresses, orig. 35.00-49.50, price 14.55
 Shantung dresses, orig. 12.75, 16.75, price 4.85
 Fine boucle suits, reduced to 15.00, orig. 18.85
 Novelty boucle suits, orig. 25.00, 15.00, price 12.75
 Zipper 3-pc. knitted suit, orig. 15.00, 16.75, 9.95
 Flannel suits, 3-piece, orig. 16.75, price 10.75

SPANISH GALLERIES

STYLE QUALITY ECONOMY LOWER FLOOR

Women's Dresses—Lower Floor
 Silk crepe dresses, orig. 12.75, price 1.95
 Jacket dresses, chit. crepe, orig. 15.00, price 3.95
 Canton crepe dresses, orig. 15.00, price 7.95
 One-piece dresses, orig. 15.00, price 4.95
 Two-tone silk crepe dresses, orig. 15.00, price 7.95
 Silk crepe dresses, orig. 10.75 to 15.00, 4.98
 Dresses, flat crepe, orig. 12.75, 15.00, 3.95
 Printed silk dresses, orig. 15.00, price 7.95
 One-piece dresses, orig. 15.00, price 7.95
 Canton crepe dresses, orig. 15.00, price 7.95
 Silk crepe dresses, orig. 10.75 to 15.00, 3.95
 Silk crepe bolero dresses, orig. 12.75, price 7.95
 Silk crepe dresses, orig. 15.00, price 7.95
 Silk crepe dresses, orig. 10.75 to 15.00, 3.95
 Silk crepe dresses, orig. 10.75 to 15.00, 2.95

SPANISH GALLERIES

STYLE QUALITY ECONOMY LOWER FLOOR

Women's Dresses—Lower Floor
 Coats, fur trimmed collars, reduced to 6.00
 Sample coats, orig. 29.75 to 35.00, price 15.00
 Coats, fur trimmed, orig. 16.75, 25.00, price 7.95
 Wool crepe coats, orig. 15.00, price 9.75
 Dress coats, self and fur trim, orig. 25.00, orig. 9.75
 Navy Blue, black dress coats, orig. 25.00, 14.75
Women's Coats—Lower Floor
 Coats, kidkin, mole trim, orig. 16.75, 8.00
 Tweed and diagonal wool coats, orig. 16.75, 8.00
 Coats, diagonal, Corsair Blue, orig. 15.00, 8.75
 Coats, wool crepe, satin facing, orig. 15.00, 8.75
 Coats, fur trimmed, orig. 25.00, price 15.00
 Coats, furless, navy and black, orig. 15.00, 8.75
 Coats, light shades, orig. 25.00, price 15.00

SPANISH GALLERIES

STYLE QUALITY ECONOMY LOWER FLOOR

Women's Dresses—Lower Floor
 Silk crepe dresses, orig. 12.75, price 1.95
 Jacket dresses, chit. crepe, orig. 15.00, price 3.95
 Canton crepe dresses, orig. 15.00, price 7.95
 One-piece dresses, orig. 15.00, price 4.95
 Two-tone silk crepe dresses, orig. 15.00, price 7.95
 Silk crepe dresses, orig. 10.75 to 15.00, 4.98
 Dresses, flat crepe, orig. 12.75, 15.00, 3.95
 Printed silk dresses, orig. 15.00, price 7.95
 One-piece dresses, orig. 15.00, price 7.95
 Canton crepe dresses, orig. 15.00, price 7.95
 Silk crepe dresses, orig. 10.75 to 15.00, 3.95
 Silk crepe bolero dresses, orig. 12.75, price 7.95
 Silk crepe dresses, orig. 15.00, price 7.95
 Silk crepe dresses, orig. 10.75 to 15.00, 3.95
 Silk crepe dresses, orig. 10.75 to 15.00, 2.95

GIRLS LURED INTO CRIME BY GANGSTERS

By A STAFF REPORTER

(Copyright, 1932, by Boston Evening American)

Most despicable of all racketeers are the white slave mobsters. The "big shot" racketeers who make a practice of dabbling in several types of law-breaking have long since got away from association with white slavers.

They won't touch this racket. They know it is harder to get a break when trouble falls their way if they are mixed up in either this or the narcotics game.

This nefarious racket, however, organized on a scale rivaling that of any other branch of crime.

A circuit of infamous houses operating much the same as a chain of vaudeville theaters exists in the East, extending through Pennsylvania, New York, Connecticut, Rhode Island and Massachusetts.

Racketeers Wealthy and Hard to Convince

The girls, the pawns in this traffic, are booked from city to city and house to house, each by her advance agent or cadet.

The proprietors of these houses are well supplied with funds—for this trade in souls is a profitable racket—and the prosecuting authorities, sparing no efforts to punish them, have found them well defended. They are a shrewd lot, and efforts to get the evidence necessary to convict have constantly been thwarted.

Each of the larger cities has a house cadet facilitating the arrangements between the advance agents and the houses. The latter for the most part are operated independently. The most fertile field for getting slaves for this business is the coal region of Pennsylvania, where it practitioner, a woman, who gained the girl's confidence and then sold her to an agent in this racket.

She was 17 years of age when she was lured to Atlantic City, New Jersey, and surrounding communities, then to Hartford, Ct., Providence, R. I., and to Boston. She was to have spent 21 weeks here, but at the end of five, the cadet was killed. Under pressure from her father she told the whole story to the Federal authorities and Dist. Atty. Foley.

After her astounding confession, which related 52 different characters, both men and women, two of them prominent in public life, the United States authorities made a tour of the circuit and made arrests in all the larger cities.

21 Indicted But All Escape Prison

Of 21 indicted in the federal jurisdiction, only one person was sentenced to jail. And through the work of an astute attorney a higher court set aside the jury's verdict and even this individual did not have to serve a day.

In some instances girls have been brought from South America. Twenty-one houses were found to be operating in the organized circuit here and thus it was with the plan of remaining here 21 weeks.

He dreamed of opening a place of his own and to edge in on other racketeers, he made his contacts with the right men here, but in the midst of his arrangements, his own plot put him on the spot.

Girls Drawn From All Classes of Society

The girls who are preyed upon by these racketeers are limited to no particular class of society. The daughter of an extremely wealthy family was rescued from this crowd when she had been missing from home for 21 months.

She had become a drug addict when found in a Philadelphia hospital and it was only by constant care and treatment that she was restored to the normal walks of life.

The daughter of a New York policeman, with a good job in a large financial concern, was tricked into the racket and was saved during the investigation that followed the Reinstein murder.

Her father did traffic duty outside the very building where she worked, and she habitually met him and accompanied him home, but one day she told him she had been invited out by a girl friend. The next the officer heard of her she was in a disreputable house here.

Drawn Into Racket at Party in Hotel

It was discovered that she had been given liquor at a hotel in New York, attacked and transported to Boston by an agent who took her to one of the worst of places.

That agent and the persons who operated the house were sent to jail from Suffolk superior court and were the only persons who received punishment during the whole investigation.

This 17-year-old girl was branded with a disgraceful name by a police official, but her father made this official, who is now out of public life, to back his words.

It was this girl's pitiful story, told to the district attorney, that caused the latter to spare no expense in running down the man who had committed the crime, even though their acts were in violation of the Federal Mann Act rather than the State laws.

Moreover, it was her story that caused a certain State legislator to write the letters to Governor Allen that brought about the inquiry in the Legislature which ended in the Garrett investigation.

(More revelations of the mob system in crime will be published in tomorrow's Boston Evening American.)

• GOOD TASTE IS NOT EXPENSIVE AT FERDINAND'S •

Commencing Today—for one week only—

FERDINAND'S JUNE BEDROOM SALE

—a Sale of huge savings opportunities
—all regular Ferdinand quality bedroom furnishings reduced to the lowest prices in a decade.

Budget Payments
Cash, Charge Account
C. O. D., Future Delivery

DUDLEY ST. TERMINAL STORE
open Mon. and Sat. Evens.
CAMBRIDGE STORE OPEN
Mon., Thurs., Sat. Evens.
NEEDHAM STORE
open Sat. Eve.

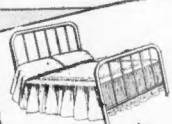

Floor Sample Bedroom in Beautiful Walnut Veneers

Reduced to

$69

Bedroom consists of large dresser with large mirror, chest of drawers, and beautiful panel bed as pictured. All the quality features including dustproof construction. Three pieces.

Metal Beds
Two-inch continuous tubes with five (5) legs. All sizes. Sale Price. $4.50

4-Poster Beds
Full size or four-poster choice of three woods. $10.95

50 lb. White Felt MATTRESS $6.75

Hundreds of layers of pure white cotton with heavy blue and gray. All sizes. Stripes, ticking, rolled edge.

Boudoir Chairs $4.75

CHINTZ PILLOW BACK CHAIRS $9.75

Formerly $19.75

INNERSPRING MATTRESS $12.75

Genuine Nachman Unit with 180 coil springs. Absolutely guaranteed. all sizes

COIL SPRING $6.75

Curled Chicken Feather Pillows
Size 16x24
Fills $1.75
Down and Green, 21x27... $2.75
21x27... $3.75

Antique Colonial Maple Floor Sample Bedroom

Reduced to

$75

All the beauty and richness of antique Colonial worked out in restful maple. Suite consists of full size bed, highboy, large dresser and vanity. Any three pieces.

Reproduction of a Fine Antique Colonial Bedroom

Any three pieces

Reduced to

$109.75

Floor sample suite with ivory footboard 4-poster bed displayed in one of our 101 model rooms just as it will look in your home. Beautifully finished in fine mahogany veneers. Mirrors are included with vanity and dresser.

Studio Couches

Complete with three pillows

$13.75

Upholstered Box Spring with genuine coil spring unit and cotton mattress. Attractive, comfortable, a spare bed.

Choice of rust, green or brown.

FRANK FERDINAND • INC.

THREE STORES—ONE HUNDRED THREE MODEL ROOMS

At Central Sq., Cambridge

OPPOSITE NEEDHAM THEATRE, NEEDHAM

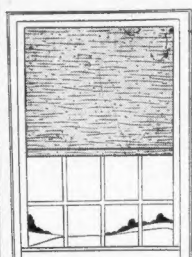

At Dudley St. Terminal

JORDAN MARSH COMPANY GREAT BASEMENT STORE

TUESDAY—SALE—10,000

Clopay Window Shades

(Patented Fiber-Paper)

10c Each

- Durable
- Sunfast
- Attractive
- 36 inches wide
- Plain tan or green

Made of a strong fiber-paper by a special process! May be easily cleaned, 36 inches wide, but may be easily cut to fit smaller size windows. Easily attached to your own rollers without tools.

Rollers Furnished Separate, each 15c

MAIL AND PHONE ORDERS FILLED HUB 2700

Now's the time To Have Your Child's Photograph Taken

You owe it to yourself and your children to have their photographs taken regularly—bring them in NOW, during school vacation!

$7

IS ALL YOU NEED SPEND

For a fine, large, 8x10 inch portrait that you'll treasure for years.

NO APPOINTMENT NECESSARY

JORDAN MARSH COMPANY GREAT BASEMENT STORE

NEW YORK IS AROUSED BY GANG DEATH

New York, June 20—Outraged by the brazen, effrontery with which gangsters blotted out the life of Charles ("Vannie") Higgins, overlord of booze in Brooklyn, an indignant citizenry today demanded that Police Commissioner Mulrooney end the public peril from gangster killers.

The killing occurred just six months after that of Jack "Legs" Diamond, and police sought to question several members of the Diamond gang about it.

Salvatore Spina, one of the go-betweens in the Landersbach baby kidnap case, "Tough" Willie McCabe, who figured prominently in the investigation of the killing of Arnold Rothstein, and friends of the slain "Lefty" Burke, Diamond lieutenant, also William Bailey, a Higgins' lieutenant, were ordered "picked up" by police for interrogation.

Mulrooney himself took charge of the investigation. Speedy action was essential, officials said, because of fear of more organized "vengeance" killings, further endangering bystanders, men, women and children.

PASSERBY IN PERIL. Higgins died from wounds inflicted when the gangster executioners swept a Brooklyn street with bullets, firing from a mob of automobiles headed in opposite directions.

The Brooklyn booze lord, who amassed a fortune there and was reaching out to "muscle in" on New Jersey bootleg territory, was walking with his daughter, Jean, seven, at his side when he was shot down.

His mother, Mrs. Mary Higgins, and his wife, Grace, were following them as he left a clubhouse where a dancing school which Jean attended had gone to a recital.

As he moved toward his parked auto two men lurking in the shadow of a building called out, "Hey there, Vannie."

Higgins took one look at the men and seemed to realize he faced death.

HIS FAMILY ESCAPE.

At the first burst of flame and lead he placed his daughter in the comparative safety of the street, then ran zigzag along the street, to draw the fire from his relatives.

The reckless shooting, endangering passersby, was concentrated on the running Higgins from the murder cars. Wounded, he fell, but arose and ran to the doorway of a house, where he collapsed.

He died a few hours later without telling police the identity of his slayers.

"I'll take care of them, the dirty rats; they even tried to wipe out my family," he said, indicating he knew them.

His wife and mother, who escaped the hail of bullets by running back into the clubhouse, were with him when he died.

Several theories were given police as to the motive for the killing. Augie Dianno, gangster known in Brooklyn, Chicago and Florida, who was reported to have been here a few days ago, was believed by police to have information that may bear on the murder.

Higgins was 34 and rose to power in Brooklyn's underworld in the last few years. He "beat the rap" on 13 occasions and was never sent to prison, although charges against him ranged from robbery and Volstead law violations to murder.

80 GIRLS GO TO BEACH CAMP
Eighty little girls from the more congested regions of Greater Boston sailed today from Rowe's Wharf for a week of play and swimming at the Nantasket camp of the Catholic Charitable Bureau of Boston.

This starts the regular summer program of the bureau, which has been doing this kindly service for many years. Boys and girls go on alternate weeks for the next 10 weeks, so that a total of 800 children get the benefit of the short period of recreation at the beach.

Gang Victim

Dapper Charles Van Wyck (Vannie) Higgins, New York gang chief, slain by enemies as he left a clubhouse in Brooklyn with his wife, daughter and brother.

G. A. R. Vet, 98, Dead
Atchaf, June 20—George W. McRae, 98 Civil War veteran and the town's oldest voter, is dead here.

22 ARE HURT AS BUS OVERTURNS

Springfield, June 20—Twenty-one children and a woman were injured when a bus in which they were returning from a picnic overturned on a sharp turn at Taylor and Autumn streets.

Ambulances and passing motorists rushed the injured to the Mayor and Western Memorial Hospitals where they were treated. The majority of the injured were later allowed to return to their homes early today.

Mrs. Louise Laudat, of Acushnet ave., wife of the driver of the machine, was at first thought to have been seriously injured. She remained unconscious at Western Hospital for some time but diagnosis showed her injuries slight and she was discharged early today.

Springfield police declared they would charge Louis Laudat, owner and operator of the machine, with operating so as to endanger. The heavy machine hurtled around the corner but its speed was too great, witnesses said, to negotiate the turn safely and it turned over, hurling several of the children into the street and shaking up the others.

The party was one of a number being attended at gathering in a picnic grove outside Springfield yesterday and were returning home late in the evening.

Alfonso's Fortune Seized
Madrid, June 20—Former King Alfonso's private fortune has been declared confiscated by the director of the Spanish treasury.

Candy, Auto, Radio Tax on Tomorrow

Washington, June 20 (AP)—Today is the last tax-free day for matches, automobiles, candy, radios, face powders, jacks, and all the treasured list of other articles brought into the federal not by the new emergency tax law.

Anybody waiting to buy, excepting prices to drop some more, had better do some hurried shopping for a nice percentage probably will be added to all prior tax on taxed items by tomorrow.

The movies (except where you get in for 40 cents or less) will cost more, so will telephones, and long distance phone calls. Bank checks will cost two cents apiece.

It will not be necessary, however, to stir three-cent stamps and letters until July 1.

Tydings Will Put Ritchie in Race

Chicago, June 20—Robert R. Ritchie of Baltimore, Gov. Ritchie's campaign manager, said today Sen. Millard Tydings of Maryland would make the speech nominating Ritchie, with Richard P. Cleveland of Baltimore, son of the former President, seconding the nomination.

Woman Assails G. O. P. Platform
Washington, June 20—The Republican platform was denounced by Mrs. John Blahen Walker of New York, National Women's Party official, as one which "completely ignores women's demand for equality of opportunity."

GUN MYSTERY TO BOY'S KIN

Because the gun found by the body of Vaughn Daniels, 15-year-old West Roxbury boy missing from his home at 21 Jorys st. for four months, was never owned by him as far as members of his family know, they stated they were not satisfied that the boy met his death by accident.

The body of the former Boston Trade School student was discovered Saturday on Pali Island in the Charles river at Needham.

Medical Examiner Frederic A. Stannard of Weymouth said he believed the boy met his death accidentally while hunting. The boy's family said he never even hunted in his life.

Sullivan Heads Letter Carriers

Fitchburg, June 20—Timothy J. Sullivan of Lowell was elected president of the Massachusetts State Letter Carriers Association, which held its 40th annual convention here yesterday. Len P. McCabe of Boston was elected vice-president. John J. English of Worcester, secretary, and E. W. Hayes of this city treasurer.

President Hoover Busy at White House
Washington, June 20—Regarding his custom of attending church Sunday morning, President Hoover spent the day secluded in the White House. Attaches said there were no callers and that the Chief Executive worked most of the day.

20 Doomed to Death Give Rest of Lives in Disease Study

Chicago, June 20 (AP)—Twenty persons doomed to die of a disease called incurable by medical science have volunteered the rest of their lives so scientists may chart their "steps to death" and possibly benefit others.

To the 20 the experiments of the Lasker foundation for medical research at the University of Chicago will be a match in a endeavor with death, but to science their contributions may mean a cure or a preventive "of the strange Knight's disease."

It is one of the "diseases of the middle age" which end the lives of millions.

Announcement was made that 20 volunteers, all in the early stages of the disease, had been obtained.

26 Injured in Mexican Quake

Mexico City, June 20 (UPI)—A check made by the ministry of labor in the area devastated by the earthquake last night listed the total known dead as two and the injured as 26.

This bulletin is based on reports from scores of cities and towns and in the state of Colima, Nayarit and Jalisco. Tecman, a suburb of the city of Colima, was destroyed.

Study in the civil estate portions of the Classified Ads, one will find scores of opportunities for profitable investments.

Double Legal stamps TUESDAY

AT Houghton's.

Houghton & Dutton Tremont at Beacon

8 HOUR SERVICE 75¢ CLEANSING
WAISTS, HATS, BLOUSES, SHIRTS DRY CLEANED 35¢

PLEATED SILK DRESSES OR ANY OTHER GARMENT—MADE TO ORDER—FREE DELIVERY SERVICE (NO MINS.)
Original Dry Cleaners
8 Winter St. 4th Floor
Tel. Dev. 7389—Room 409-7
ALSO, 50 CAMBRIDGE ST.
501 WASHINGTON ST. 1ST FLOOR

CLEAN WHITE PURE

Even the package invites you

INVITING is the word... Chesterfield's attractive white package is certainly the proper introduction to the cigarettes inside it. For it suggests right off... they're pure.

Examine the paper Chesterfields are rolled in. It's white... and pure. Now light up... You'll notice there's neither taste nor odor of burning paper. You get the full flavor of fine ripe tobaccos.

To make sure of purity... every ingredient and every method used in making Chesterfields... is checked by a staff of scientists.

You always open that clean white package with confidence. It reminds you of the purity back of that satisfying taste. And remember, they're milder too!

The Cigarette that's Milder..The Cigarette that TASTES BETTER

Now 10 p.m. Eastern Daylight

COLUMBIA NETWORK

MON & THUR 10:30-11:00
WED 10:30-11:00
FRI 10:30-11:00
SAT 10:30-11:00
SUN 10:30-11:00

WILLIS RUTH
JOHN RUTH
ETTING

Now 10 p.m. Eastern Daylight

COLUMBIA NETWORK

MON & THUR 10:30-11:00
WED 10:30-11:00
FRI 10:30-11:00
SAT 10:30-11:00
SUN 10:30-11:00

WILLIS RUTH
JOHN RUTH
ETTING

Now 10 p.m. Eastern Daylight

COLUMBIA NETWORK

MON & THUR 10:30-11:00
WED 10:30-11:00
FRI 10:30-11:00
SAT 10:30-11:00
SUN 10:30-11:00

WILLIS RUTH
JOHN RUTH
ETTING

Now 10 p.m. Eastern Daylight

COLUMBIA NETWORK

MON & THUR 10:30-11:00
WED 10:30-11:00
FRI 10:30-11:00
SAT 10:30-11:00
SUN 10:30-11:00

WILLIS RUTH
JOHN RUTH
ETTING

Now 10 p.m. Eastern Daylight

COLUMBIA NETWORK

MON & THUR 10:30-11:00
WED 10:30-11:00
FRI 10:30-11:00
SAT 10:30-11:00
SUN 10:30-11:00

WILLIS RUTH
JOHN RUTH
ETTING

80 GIRLS GO TO BEACH CAMP

Eighty little girls from the more congested regions of Greater Boston sailed today from Rowe's Wharf for a week of play and swimming at the Nantasket camp of the Catholic Charitable Bureau of Boston.

This starts the regular summer program of the bureau, which has been doing this kindly service for many years. Boys and girls go on alternate weeks for the next 10 weeks, so that a total of 800 children get the benefit of the short period of recreation at the beach.

BIGNY TO SEEK BRENNAN POST

Ex-Senator Robert E. Bigny announced his candidacy for the Democratic nomination for the Governor's Council at a reception tendered to him in the Municipal Building, East Broadway, South Boston.

He will run for the seat of the present councillor, James Brennan of Charlestown, who will not seek reelection.

More than 500 persons gathered at the reception last night. Joseph Madden was master of ceremonies. The program included orchestral numbers and readings, songs and instrumental numbers by professional artists.

Boy Drowning Victim
Schoonhoven, Me. June 20—The body of Joseph Biele, 11, missing since June 11 was found in the Kennebec River. Police said the boy had drowned accidentally.

© 1937, LIGGETT & MYERS TOBACCO CO.

THIS IS LIFE

EFFORTS OF CONVENTION ORATORS LOSE CASTE OVER RADIO

By ROBERT E. ROGERS

THERE WERE TIMES last week when I regretted that I had but one pair of ears to give to my country. Along about midnight of Wednesday or in the long gray stretches of Thursday afternoon a second pair would have come in handy.

Mostly to disentangle interfering apparatus and jazz bands from the going-on in Chicago.

I admit that when it comes to addresses, conventions, proceedings in general, I am a radio fool. I like to finish what I start. In this case I am glad I did. It seemed to me that the press reports this year were angularly scrappy and incomplete, particularly in color, incidents and sidelights on the convention. Possibly that fact was the result of the cost of white paper; possibly the press decided that such items would be taken care of by the radio and not be duplicated.

Personality in Human Voice

I have a profound feeling that the human voice—what a person says and how he says it—is the best possible clue to personality. Brother Selmes does not seem to think so. Only yesterday in his article on radio he wrote: "A little—not much—of Alfred E. Smith and Bernard Shaw comes through the airwaves." I am inclined to differ. I think a good deal comes through.

The warm laughing tenor of Bernard Shaw gives the lie to much of the contemptuous remarks. And there is no doubt that Al Smith's radio voice both gained and lost him votes, according to the temperament of the listener. He who had been only a name suddenly became a person and your vague notions about him suddenly crystallized into liking or dislike.

Even the noisiness of the convention helped. The first feebly rally for Hoover, as well as the second and more obviously stage-managed one, revealed their quality over the air in surprisingly illuminating fashion. The raucous and terrible boos against James Garfield as well. The utter lack of laughter and cheerfulness in the whole proceedings. And so on.

I wonder whether the quality of American oratory is suffering in direct proportion as it can be heard all over the country. The universal comment has noted the lack of really stirring speech. Are the stores of old conventions emptied by a single speech? Or are they only affectionate reminiscences, glowing rose-colored through the mists of memory? Would Bryan's cross of gold speech have sounded over the radio as raucous and labored and pedestrian as most of those we listened to? Or Garfield's speech that made him a candidate in 1880 and upset Conklin's plans? Or Beveridge's famous key-note address for the Bull Moose in 1912? We are told that these were great oratory and we must believe it. But the radio was merciless to our orators of today.

Two "Gems" of Oratory

Of course, the radio sometimes misses its opportunities. The Homer at the mike sometimes nodded. The one I was listening to completely missed the significance of the abortive demonstration that the Texans started when the platform advocated protection for the oil industry. He hadn't the slightest idea what it was all about, though it was plain to the listener. And the "political commentators" passion for cutting in somewhat jejune remarks, explanations, instead of letting us listen to the thing itself, lost us the one sensational highlight of the convention, the fracas with the eccentric France was put off the platform. So long as the mike was trained on the convention, all was well. The rest of the time it was rather unimportant.

Two gems of oratory I shall always remember. One got into the newspapers. The other did not. Both were the product of the superheated eloquence of Joseph L. Scott, who nominated Mr. Hoover.

"Babylon and Nineveh and ancient Rome wallowed in the wealth of material prosperity, stood naked and unashamed in their perdition and succumbed. And succumbed long ago, long ago, Nero, the men, women, and children throw to the lions of the Colosseum for a Roman holiday, gave us the artesian springs of Christianity that rule the world, while the splendors of Rome are almost forgotten memories."

I nominate that language for the rotten-rotor prize. The spectacle of a human torch turning into an artesian spring is stupefying, but only one high light of a whole passage which, rhetorically and historically, is as false as a piece of Hollywood scenery.

The other I caught on the wing and I am not sure of the exact words. Mr. Scott was talking about Mr. Hoover's pioneer stock, of the brave men and women who populated our western states "without doctors, without drug-stores and without benefit of clergy." Not nice, really. Almost obscene. But quite characteristic of Mr. Scott's rhetoric which for the most part said nothing in a singularly flamboyant and offensive way.

Prohibition Debate Worthwhile

There were, however, memorable pieces of speech-making. The one piece of spontaneous enthusiasm came when the convention rose to the oratory of Roscoe Conkling Simmons, a Negro, and insisted that the chairman extend his time. A genuine personal triumph. The shade of the famous New York boss with the "turkey-gobbler strut" must have been pleased.

One will not soon forget the even, measured, steady, icy, contemptuous tones of James Garfield as he insisted on his exact phrasing in defense of the Hoover prohibition plank. The boing and laughter he received were not good-humored. They were pretty terrible. And Garfield's voice got colder and harder and more contemptuous, until he felt on the platform pursued and him to lay off. The crowd in the gallery must have been pretty low, if one is to judge by the sounds they made.

The great speech of the convention was, without question, Ogden Mills', strong, clear, well-argued, penetrating, eloquent and persuasive. That young man ought to go far. Nicholas Murray Butler yelled like all possessed. If I were his physician I should have been alarmed. Too violent for an old gentleman. And in its way, too, a notable plea, certainly notable compared to Senator Hiram Bingham's two feeble and uncertain efforts, the greatest disappointment of the prohibition debate.

But at least it WAS a debate, an important debate and on an important question. So much of history is clustered around great debates in legislative or deliberative assemblies that to hear one as if in the flesh, upon an important question, with sincerity and passion on one side, was to me, a memorable event.

I suppose that by the end of the Democratic convention I shall be like the aviators—stone deaf from the noise.

SOCIETY FEATURES

BOSTON EVENING AMERICAN

WEDNESDAY, JUNE 23, 1932

GREATER BOSTON NEWS

HARVARD SPEAKER ATTACKS U. S. PESSIMISTS

Woburn 'Pill Box' Rum Plant Forfeit to Government

CANINE TOURISTS LAND

Mrs. John G. Winant, wife of New Hampshire governor, is shown with three dogs which arrived for her from England on the S. S. Seythia. The dogs are named Steeplechase, Swish and Sheriff. (Staff photo.)

125,000 WATCH 2 ARE SEIZED IN ROBBERY

CHARLESTOWN, June 22.—A mob parade of 125,000 people, estimated at 125,000, gathered in the city center today to witness the seizure of two men in a robbery. The men were taken to the city hall and held in custody.

CITY DELIVERS TWO INJURED AS CAR TURNS OVER

TWO HUNDRED AND 25 city employees today began distribution of relief supplies to the city's poor. The supplies were distributed in the city's various districts.

14 Flee Fire After Kittens Give Alarm

THREE KITTENS, named "Moose," "Bobby," and "Pete," gave the alarm today for a fire in a building on the city's waterfront. The fire was quickly extinguished.

Boston Man Hurt in Kansas City

A BOSTON man was injured today in a collision with a car in Kansas City. The man was taken to the hospital for treatment.

CROWDED COURT SURPRISED BY DECISION

CONFISCATION AGREED TO BY REPUTED OWNERS OF HUGE ALCOHOL DISTILLERY. A crowded court today heard the case of the owners of a large alcohol distillery. The court decided to confiscate the property.

DRUGSTORE BATTLE ENDS

Dean Harry S. Ross, of Emerson College of Oratory, vindicated in the master's report on the Morse & Starnick drug store suit, and Philip Sherman, counsel for the dean and college at the hearings, when they discussed case. Below are Helen C. Hinck and Marion Wall, two of the crooks who testified at the hearing concerning improprieties they said they witnessed in store. Miss Wall is president of college student government. (Staff photos.)

GLOOMY VIEWS ARE ASSAILED AT HARVARD

WARREN CITES FALSE EARLY OPINIONS IN ADDRESS AT PHI BETA KAPPA EXERCISES. The Phi Beta Kappa society at Harvard today held its annual exercises. Warren cited false early opinions in his address.

BANK RIGHTS SAID

A BOSTON man today said that the rights of the bank should be protected. He argued that the bank has a right to its property.

Two Injured As Car Turns Over

TWO PEOPLE WERE INJURED today when a car turned over on its side. The car was traveling on a road near the city.

Famous Men of 1907 Class at Harvard Hold Reunion

MULTITUDINOUS YACHTMEN, EM-COAST, HARBOR FLEET, JR. A large number of famous men of the 1907 class at Harvard held a reunion today. They gathered in the harbor for the event.

Lynn Man's Body Found in Woods

A BODY WAS FOUND today in the woods near Lynn. The body was identified as that of a man who had been missing for some time.

Aleppo Temple to Celebrate Tuesday

A TEMPLE IN ALEPPO today celebrated the anniversary of the founding of the city. The celebration was held in the city's main square.

Man Found Dying on Bench in Park

A MAN WAS FOUND today dying on a bench in a park. The man was taken to the hospital for treatment.

SKIPPY—The Bitter Truth

Visiting the W. U.

With the Candid Camera

The Western Union building at High and Congress sts. was no visiting spot today. I wanted a few shots of the new equipment and machinery that have been installed. Here are some things I saw.

First of all, while standing around the different departments, I caught Gordon M. Ross at this typewriter. It is a typewriter at all. He is receiving a message direct from Liverpool, in the wire cables, which come right in to Boston.

And then of course there is a way of distributing these messages. That's all taken care of by the apparatus that Dorothy Farrell, a route aide, is showing you.

Ethel McDonald is showing you how messages are put on a belt and sent in all parts of the city. It is estimated that Ethel handles ten messages an hour.

This is a multiplex distributor, which carries the signals sent over the open line. This method is used because the signals are not interrupted by the H. J. Jones, the operator, checking up on one of the machines.

Missing Boy Was Working as Caddy
While his parents and others were looking for him, a missing boy was working as a caddy at the Hotel Hamilton. The boy, who is 14 years old, was found by his mother, Mrs. John J. Jones, who was looking for him at the hotel. The boy was found by his mother, Mrs. John J. Jones, who was looking for him at the hotel.

WEEK-END EXCURSION $7.50 to NEW YORK
ROUND TRIP
Includes breakfast, lunch, dinner, and hotel accommodations.
EASTERN STEAMSHIP LINES
401 Portland Street, Tel. Kew-Forest 9228. 40 Franklin Street, Tel. Liberty 2386.
401 South Street, Tel. Franklin 7700, Boston.

OFFICER ON CRUTCHES GETS HIS MAN AFTER BATTLE

GANG BOMBARDS POLICEMAN IN NO. END STORE

Madden Falls, Sprains Ankle, But Makes Arrest After Hospital Treatment

One man will be arraigned in court today as the result of a free-lance, battle in which several young men ganged Special Officer Mark Madden of the Hanover at station, and bombarded him with canned goods as he took a 14-year-old boy into custody.

The man, who is a 14-year-old boy, was taken to the Hanover at station, and was taken to the Hanover at station, and was taken to the Hanover at station.

ON PROOF OF THEFTS
The man, who is a 14-year-old boy, was taken to the Hanover at station, and was taken to the Hanover at station, and was taken to the Hanover at station.

After some questioning, the boy was taken to the Hanover at station, and was taken to the Hanover at station, and was taken to the Hanover at station.

He held his gun on the boy, and the boy was taken to the Hanover at station, and was taken to the Hanover at station, and was taken to the Hanover at station.

He held his gun on the boy, and the boy was taken to the Hanover at station, and was taken to the Hanover at station, and was taken to the Hanover at station.

FIVE IN FAMILY GRADUATE
The five children of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Jones, of the Hanover at station, were taken to the Hanover at station, and were taken to the Hanover at station.

The five children of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Jones, of the Hanover at station, were taken to the Hanover at station, and were taken to the Hanover at station.

The five children of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Jones, of the Hanover at station, were taken to the Hanover at station, and were taken to the Hanover at station.

The five children of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Jones, of the Hanover at station, were taken to the Hanover at station, and were taken to the Hanover at station.

The five children of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Jones, of the Hanover at station, were taken to the Hanover at station, and were taken to the Hanover at station.

The five children of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Jones, of the Hanover at station, were taken to the Hanover at station, and were taken to the Hanover at station.

The five children of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Jones, of the Hanover at station, were taken to the Hanover at station, and were taken to the Hanover at station.

The five children of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Jones, of the Hanover at station, were taken to the Hanover at station, and were taken to the Hanover at station.

The five children of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Jones, of the Hanover at station, were taken to the Hanover at station, and were taken to the Hanover at station.

VISITORS FROM CALCUTTA

Four monkeys all in the hands of Kenneth Patri, were photographed, just after the S. S. Foyehank, tied up in Boston waters, Sunday. The lively animals had from Calcutta.

JEWISH SCHOOL GRADUATES 11

Diplomas were awarded to 11 graduates of the Hebrew Teachers' College, Hartford, at the graduation exercises, held at the Hartford Convention Center, Sunday.

The graduates, who were taken to the Hartford Convention Center, Sunday, were taken to the Hartford Convention Center, Sunday, and were taken to the Hartford Convention Center, Sunday.

The graduates, who were taken to the Hartford Convention Center, Sunday, were taken to the Hartford Convention Center, Sunday, and were taken to the Hartford Convention Center, Sunday.

The graduates, who were taken to the Hartford Convention Center, Sunday, were taken to the Hartford Convention Center, Sunday, and were taken to the Hartford Convention Center, Sunday.

The graduates, who were taken to the Hartford Convention Center, Sunday, were taken to the Hartford Convention Center, Sunday, and were taken to the Hartford Convention Center, Sunday.

The graduates, who were taken to the Hartford Convention Center, Sunday, were taken to the Hartford Convention Center, Sunday, and were taken to the Hartford Convention Center, Sunday.

The graduates, who were taken to the Hartford Convention Center, Sunday, were taken to the Hartford Convention Center, Sunday, and were taken to the Hartford Convention Center, Sunday.

The graduates, who were taken to the Hartford Convention Center, Sunday, were taken to the Hartford Convention Center, Sunday, and were taken to the Hartford Convention Center, Sunday.

The graduates, who were taken to the Hartford Convention Center, Sunday, were taken to the Hartford Convention Center, Sunday, and were taken to the Hartford Convention Center, Sunday.

The graduates, who were taken to the Hartford Convention Center, Sunday, were taken to the Hartford Convention Center, Sunday, and were taken to the Hartford Convention Center, Sunday.

The graduates, who were taken to the Hartford Convention Center, Sunday, were taken to the Hartford Convention Center, Sunday, and were taken to the Hartford Convention Center, Sunday.

BIG TIME AHEAD FOR SHERIFF DAN DOWD

Dorchester Vets Plan Trek to Vermont to Honor Y.D.'s Oldest Hero

It's going to be a great Fourth of July for Deputy Sheriff Dan Dowd of Woodstock, Vt., oldest vet in the Yankee Division. Looks as if Daniel might stay out all the night before, as he did when a kid in Boston.

Dowd's buddies from Francis O. Kane, Dorchester American Legion of 10, are going to Vermont to honor his old hero, Daniel Dowd, who was a hero in the Civil War.

These are the heroes of the Civil War, who were taken to the Hartford Convention Center, Sunday, and were taken to the Hartford Convention Center, Sunday.

These are the heroes of the Civil War, who were taken to the Hartford Convention Center, Sunday, and were taken to the Hartford Convention Center, Sunday.

These are the heroes of the Civil War, who were taken to the Hartford Convention Center, Sunday, and were taken to the Hartford Convention Center, Sunday.

These are the heroes of the Civil War, who were taken to the Hartford Convention Center, Sunday, and were taken to the Hartford Convention Center, Sunday.

These are the heroes of the Civil War, who were taken to the Hartford Convention Center, Sunday, and were taken to the Hartford Convention Center, Sunday.

These are the heroes of the Civil War, who were taken to the Hartford Convention Center, Sunday, and were taken to the Hartford Convention Center, Sunday.

These are the heroes of the Civil War, who were taken to the Hartford Convention Center, Sunday, and were taken to the Hartford Convention Center, Sunday.

These are the heroes of the Civil War, who were taken to the Hartford Convention Center, Sunday, and were taken to the Hartford Convention Center, Sunday.

These are the heroes of the Civil War, who were taken to the Hartford Convention Center, Sunday, and were taken to the Hartford Convention Center, Sunday.

These are the heroes of the Civil War, who were taken to the Hartford Convention Center, Sunday, and were taken to the Hartford Convention Center, Sunday.

These are the heroes of the Civil War, who were taken to the Hartford Convention Center, Sunday, and were taken to the Hartford Convention Center, Sunday.

These are the heroes of the Civil War, who were taken to the Hartford Convention Center, Sunday, and were taken to the Hartford Convention Center, Sunday.

These are the heroes of the Civil War, who were taken to the Hartford Convention Center, Sunday, and were taken to the Hartford Convention Center, Sunday.

These are the heroes of the Civil War, who were taken to the Hartford Convention Center, Sunday, and were taken to the Hartford Convention Center, Sunday.

NEWLYWED IS KILLED WHEN CAR CRASHES

Lynn Couple's Secret Romance Is Revealed by Fatal Auto Mishap

Widowed by the death of her husband in Lynn Hospital yesterday, less than a day after she had announced their secret marriage, Mrs. Donald O. Fisher, 20, of New Park st., Lynn, was almost prostrated by grief today.

The couple had planned to start housekeeping at once after the announcement of their wedding, but when the bride, the former Miss Lillian O. Fisher, learned of the tragedy, she immediately checked for pain and was in great trouble.

The couple had planned to start housekeeping at once after the announcement of their wedding, but when the bride, the former Miss Lillian O. Fisher, learned of the tragedy, she immediately checked for pain and was in great trouble.

The couple had planned to start housekeeping at once after the announcement of their wedding, but when the bride, the former Miss Lillian O. Fisher, learned of the tragedy, she immediately checked for pain and was in great trouble.

The couple had planned to start housekeeping at once after the announcement of their wedding, but when the bride, the former Miss Lillian O. Fisher, learned of the tragedy, she immediately checked for pain and was in great trouble.

The couple had planned to start housekeeping at once after the announcement of their wedding, but when the bride, the former Miss Lillian O. Fisher, learned of the tragedy, she immediately checked for pain and was in great trouble.

The couple had planned to start housekeeping at once after the announcement of their wedding, but when the bride, the former Miss Lillian O. Fisher, learned of the tragedy, she immediately checked for pain and was in great trouble.

The couple had planned to start housekeeping at once after the announcement of their wedding, but when the bride, the former Miss Lillian O. Fisher, learned of the tragedy, she immediately checked for pain and was in great trouble.

The couple had planned to start housekeeping at once after the announcement of their wedding, but when the bride, the former Miss Lillian O. Fisher, learned of the tragedy, she immediately checked for pain and was in great trouble.

The couple had planned to start housekeeping at once after the announcement of their wedding, but when the bride, the former Miss Lillian O. Fisher, learned of the tragedy, she immediately checked for pain and was in great trouble.

The couple had planned to start housekeeping at once after the announcement of their wedding, but when the bride, the former Miss Lillian O. Fisher, learned of the tragedy, she immediately checked for pain and was in great trouble.

The couple had planned to start housekeeping at once after the announcement of their wedding, but when the bride, the former Miss Lillian O. Fisher, learned of the tragedy, she immediately checked for pain and was in great trouble.

The couple had planned to start housekeeping at once after the announcement of their wedding, but when the bride, the former Miss Lillian O. Fisher, learned of the tragedy, she immediately checked for pain and was in great trouble.

The couple had planned to start housekeeping at once after the announcement of their wedding, but when the bride, the former Miss Lillian O. Fisher, learned of the tragedy, she immediately checked for pain and was in great trouble.

The couple had planned to start housekeeping at once after the announcement of their wedding, but when the bride, the former Miss Lillian O. Fisher, learned of the tragedy, she immediately checked for pain and was in great trouble.

The couple had planned to start housekeeping at once after the announcement of their wedding, but when the bride, the former Miss Lillian O. Fisher, learned of the tragedy, she immediately checked for pain and was in great trouble.

EAST BOSTON GIRL STAR

You'd be surprised at the wonderful talent gathered together in the RKO Opportunity Contest. The Revue is now on. Just 100 girls of this section of the country are in that show on stage of New Keith Theatre, this week. Here we have one of the girls who "went over with a bang"—She is Josephine May, 226 Chelsea street, East Boston.

UNIVERSAL CLEANSERS and DYERS Inc.

Sensational Cleansing! Offer This Week Only!
(AT OUR BOSTON SHOPS ONLY)

SPORT CLOTHES EVENING GOWNS SUMMER DRESSES WHITE FLANNELS MEN'S SUITS, Etc.
59¢
CASH AND CARRY

For Our Auto Service—GARISON 4565

BOSTON AMERICAN PRAISED BY VETS

Surprise-Woolhouse Post, No. 329
VETERANS OF FOREIGN WARS OF U. S.
June 13, 1932.

To the Editor Boston American, Boston Mass.
Dear Sir:—At the regular meeting of Surprise-Woolhouse Post 329 V.F.W., held June 17, 1932, it was unanimously voted that you and your paper, The Boston American, be commended for the action and stand that you took in the support of the Veteran in his fight for what rightfully belongs to him.

It is needless to say that if other papers had taken the stand that the Hearst Papers did the Veteran today would have a job and would not be depending on the generosity of others.

Wishing you and your associates the best of success.
Very truly yours,
Edmond M. Prodan
Commander.

Attest: John J. Rescaglia
Assistant.

Here is another Veterans of Foreign Wars Post grateful for the efforts made by the Boston Evening American in behalf of war veterans seeking cash bonus. A facsimile of letter from the Veterans of Foreign Wars is shown above.

WATCH your doorstep Wednesday for one of our 200,000 8-page circulars that will be distributed throughout Greater Boston

Greater Savings than ever before on EVERYTHING FOR THE HOME!

COOK-COOS

By TED COOK

Constructive things are being said and done all around us; all we need is the eye to see and the mind to grasp.

A college dean has suggested that we celebrate "know-your-own-mate week."

Before going any further, he should get some pointers from those who have already celebrated "know-your-own-mate week." He'll find them in Henlo.

And there are a lot of others who know their own mate-own mate. They're still not speaking.

The clubs that meet to talk on high must listen to some very dry things.

TREND OF THE TIMES (Qualified-Persons) I WANT to join private snubbing group. Mr. Churchill, Box 34234.

Of course it won't be so private after Churchill joins the group.

MAN OF THE HOUR

Let us all stand silent and uncovered in tribute to J. Hoffstutter, who modestly suggests the best plan yet offered for governing a nation.

And the postal director might be cut in half if married men's pay checks were sent direct to an installment collector's cleaning house.

Says Genevieve, the kitchen cynic: "And I guess a woman has reached middle age when hissing ceases to be a ritual and becomes a bother."

Headline in Chicago Herald-Examiner: "Boy Shoots Dad; O. K. Says Mother"

Little Will, one of fifteen. Shot his pa while feeling mean. Mother murmured, "That's O. K. This joint's too crowded anyway."

Great Moments in the Lives of Great Men (NO. 221245)

A SHORT, SHORT STORY

"Now what are you going to do?" demanded the wife of ex-Congressman Radminton, when the views had been counted. "You're just a lameduck Congressman. You aren't accustomed to doing anything. I've got half a notion to divorce you." And as she said it she slapped him across the face with a bound volume of the Congressional Record. Radminton was annoyed, but held his peace. He cleared his throat and drank a glass of water. Then he smiled and said, "I am an ex-Congressman, true. The people have foolishly refrained from returning me to the seat I loved so well. But I am not a failure. Indeed, I have a practical plan for my future, as well as the future of all unemployed Congressmen. I shall offer my services to some institution of higher learning as an assistant football coach. It will teach the fine, upstanding, vigorous youth of the land—the gladiators of the gridiron—how to dodge and sidestep."

And the trouble with most male athletes is that they're not short enough.

And the higher the cover charge, the lower the patron.

The drivers who don't look for cover when driving through cities are a great deal of fun.

FAMOUS LAST WORDS

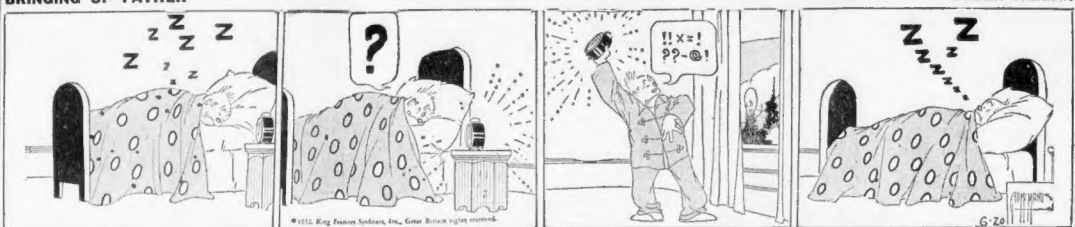

Come, come, now, Gov. Marston, I wouldn't do anything that risks.

Copyright, 1932, for the Boston Evening American.

THIMBLE THEATRE, starring POPEYE

BRINGING UP FATHER

POLLY AND HER PALS

LITTLE ANNIE ROONEY

BARNEY GOOGLE

TIM TYLER'S FLYING LUCK

KRAZY KAT

Now Showing—"His Maternal Instinct"

Out the Window

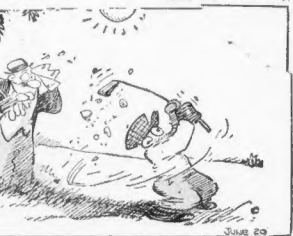

Keeping the Home Fires Burning

The Silver Lining

Exercise for Sully

Enough Is Sufficient

Daily Crossword Puzzle

By EUGENE SIEFFER

HORIZONTAL

1—Ostrich.
3—Name of the ship.
5—The strong lifting force.
7—Finger.
9—Name.
11—Lamenting exclamation.
13—Suff.
15—Waters.
17—Danger.
19—Small child.
21—Country that is a puzzle.
23—Large plant.
25—Fruit.
27—Including barrier.
29—Mother.
31—Call in driving cattle.
33—Name surname.
35—Butter.
37—Fruit.
39—Mineral spring.
41—Lure.
43—Struck fertility with bottom of.
45—Nineteen of sets.
47—Live with river.
49—Hill.
51—Mouth.
53—Battered fat of sun.
55—Name surname.
57—Butter.
59—One afflicted with a terrible disease.
61—Fruit.
63—Quantity of mud.
65—Fruit.
67—Fruit.
69—Fruit.
71—Fruit.
73—Fruit.
75—Fruit.
77—Fruit.
79—Fruit.
81—Fruit.
83—Fruit.
85—Fruit.
87—Fruit.
89—Fruit.
91—Fruit.
93—Fruit.
95—Fruit.
97—Fruit.
99—Fruit.

VERTICAL

1—Fruit.
3—Fruit.
5—Fruit.
7—Fruit.
9—Fruit.
11—Fruit.
13—Fruit.
15—Fruit.
17—Fruit.
19—Fruit.
21—Fruit.
23—Fruit.
25—Fruit.
27—Fruit.
29—Fruit.
31—Fruit.
33—Fruit.
35—Fruit.
37—Fruit.
39—Fruit.
41—Fruit.
43—Fruit.
45—Fruit.
47—Fruit.
49—Fruit.
51—Fruit.
53—Fruit.
55—Fruit.
57—Fruit.
59—Fruit.
61—Fruit.
63—Fruit.
65—Fruit.
67—Fruit.
69—Fruit.
71—Fruit.
73—Fruit.
75—Fruit.
77—Fruit.
79—Fruit.
81—Fruit.
83—Fruit.
85—Fruit.
87—Fruit.
89—Fruit.
91—Fruit.
93—Fruit.
95—Fruit.
97—Fruit.
99—Fruit.

Why 'Marathon' For a Train Every Morning?

If you'd like to live nearer town, ask the

FREE RENTAL BUREAU FOR A LIST OF APARTMENTS

Simply call LIBERTY 4000. There's no charge

BOSTON AMERICAN

Largest Evening Circulation in New England

MONDAY, JUNE 20, 1932

What the Hearst
Papers Advocate

No. 8
Five billion dollar Federal loan for public works and to relieve unemployment.

Russia's Ideal Combination

It's a Good One. You Ought to Think About It

AIRPLANE, AIRMAN, WORKMAN WITH GAS MASK.
RUSSIA'S IDEA OF NATIONAL STRENGTH.

The intelligent and thoughtful will study the pictures in this column with interest. Only the foolish accept of the statement "Russia can't possibly succeed. Russia must be a failure. Russia will not last." Who KNOWS?

As a matter of fact, the Russian Government has lasted without interruption or change longer than any other at present in Europe, with the exception of the German Government.

The picture above shows a quiet, moderate group of statuary, displayed in the Red Square at Moscow as a part of the May Day celebration in honor of labor.

It is Russia's idea of a combination that a free people need. It's a good idea that ought to be studied by everybody in the government of this country.

At the top you see the airplane, which stands for protection, control of the real ocean which is the air.

Of the other two figures, the one carrying a hammer and wearing a gas mask, represents labor, the hammer for work, the gas mask for protection against enemy aviators; the other represents a flier, whose business it is to protect the country while the workers build it up.

This is a pretty good statue, although it strikes us as crude and, perhaps, "barbaric."

Any nation would be fortunate that had men working safely, with gas masks against modern war dangers, if necessary, the whole country protected by a swarm of fliers, swift airplanes, with all the modern weapons of war, machine guns, bombs, and the deadly gases.

GORKY, ON THE LEFT, RUSSIAN THINKER; STALIN, ON THE RIGHT, RUSSIAN RULER, POWERFUL MEN.

Russia does not merely TALK about these things, or make statues about them. The Russians actually DO them. In spite of lack of money, they have built a great air fleet. They train millions of young people in the science of aviation. They know that the real enemy is the air, that all invasions will be made THROUGH THE AIR, and that he who rules the air, eventually, will rule the world.

It would be a good thing if our Government understood those facts, and acted on their understanding.

With the picture of the giant statue, we see also here two interesting Russian faces. One is that of Gorky, the great Russian writer, who hangs on and works, faithful to the new Russian government, although he was supposed to be dying of consumption when he was in America, many years ago.

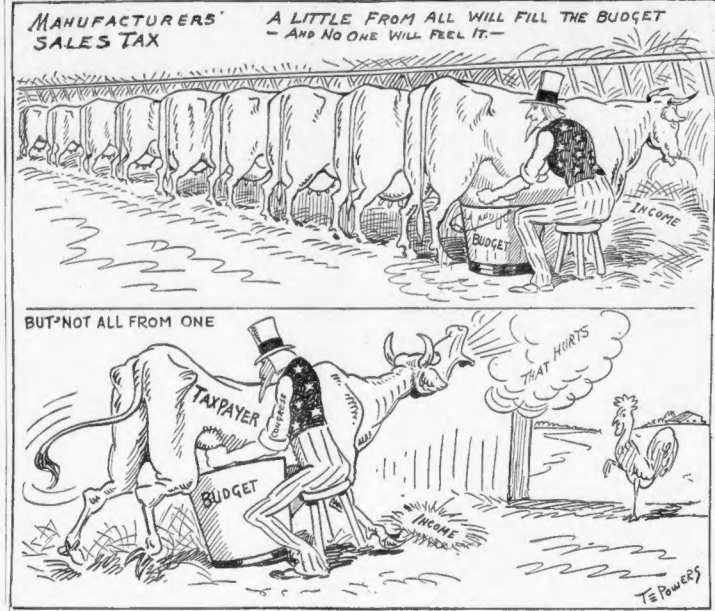

The other face is that of Stalin, Russia's ruler, more powerful than any Czar since Peter the Great.

Those that object to Russia running its government in its own way, call this man very cruel, and refer to the many executions in Russia. Doubtless there have been many executions, including the entire royal family.

But any one of half a dozen Cezars put to death a hundred times as many as have been killed since the Russian Revolution started.

Milking the Taxpayer

By T. E. Powers

McIntyre

New York Day by Day

Diary of a Modern Days
NEW YORK, June 20.—Diary of a modern Pops: Talking to Basil Woon and to Jim Tully and with Hattie Bella Johnson to see her late husband's novel, "Limpy," filmed, but little of it left to recognize. Albert C. Sale's portrayal of an unwanted old man as, especially moving and fine.

Typewriting a spell and with Lulu Ball for a power of the water front and fell to picturing a fish-monger in spats, monocle and with a British accent sopranoing: "Pictorial prizes" all "vastly comical" to us. Then with the Aubrey Eads and Grover Cleveland to Mrs. Elbert Gary's for tiffin.

Sadie and Hugh Murray to dinner and to "Show Boat," the only revival I ever saw superior to the original. So driving the Murphys home and dismissing the car at 72nd St. about through the park. Near the Mall it came on rain and we hurried in a shelter house watching lightning fork vividly across the sky.

To some—well, one anyway—New York's extravagantly elegant finest have settled into chronic apathy. They have not the spruce alertness of the days they were let and carried the pace. The editorial spirit's gain is an indifferent shuffle. They lean against buildings in cross-legged indolence, huddle in araways for surreptitious drag of cigarettes and often their clubs dangle from shields. It is possible they are touched with a lethargy that has swept the world. Whatever it is there is a noticeable lack of the disciplined instinct once thrilling us all.

Now and then visiting the Bronx Zoo I wonder at the lukewarmness of natives for this entrancing clump of greenery. Visitors are mostly out-of-towners. There is high fun in hunting for suggestions of humanity in the macar-ni exhibits. The cage of brooding vultures—Wall St. And the chimpanzee in a Clarence Mackay. A seal doubles for Vincent Van Gogh, an eagle recalls Jules Broutin. A fox with preternatural bright eyes. Roy Howard's owl. Irreverent Cezar, and it must have been Chaplin got his grotesque walk from a penguin. There is, too, a certain rate-snake—but never mind. O yes, the head like that sticks out its head like George Jesse.

At the Aquarium, too, are doubles for Helen Morgan, Barney Gallant, Clark Gable and one wide-eyed Japanese specimen is a ringer for that old sweetheart of mine, Marie Dressler.

Personal nomination for the most finished restraint among the movie actors—Roland Young.

I recall that period when the singing process—fresh from Cincinnati's Burnet House—added a tonorial splendor to the shops back. Most of the regulars at Mace Robinson's gazed upon it in a sort

Listen, World!

By Elsie Robinson

Respect Your Mistake!
YOU DID A wrong thing once, or a silly, or a shameful thing—And you've never been able to forget it. You feel it dragging you down. You feel that other people must suspect you. You feel it against you.

Even in your happiest moments, the memory of that old sin or blunder sticks to you. You feel it dragging you down. You feel that other people must suspect you. You feel it against you.

You're sure that you never again can be as bad and once you read the Saragosa Race Track, inaugurating that picture-pageant, "the parade to the post."

A yellowed clipping, anonymously in the mail today, was an editorial written doubtless during a major panic of long ago. In thick black despair it moaned: "The skies were never so threatening or the future so starkly terrifying. Food riots quicken the tension. The horror of civilization in collapse threatens the public thought. We are, the mightiest, of all nations, utterly adrift."

And here we are again the same old frailty casts. Just awhile ago a hall window curtain fluttered and I sat breathless, awaiting for a Kreuger or something to vault over the top.

(Copyright, 1932, for the Boston Evening American.)

By Edgar A. Guest

Just Folks

The Master Bedroom
"The Master Bedroom," said the pianist. As plain as print could make it.

"Oh," remarked the married man. "Shall I never let me take it. That is a pretty compliment. My pulses now it stirs. For me of course this room is meant. But soon it will be hers."

"For blueprint purposes appears to me this kindly reference. In all our happy married years I've never had the preference. But here it is in blue and white. For all who wish to see. 'The master room.' Can that be right? Does that refer to me?"

"Ah, me! although full well I know That I shall never be it. 'The Master'—title sure for show— It's rather nice to see it. No privileges I expect. Beneath that roof of shingle. 'The master room!' the architect. A Batter in or shingle!"

(Copyright, 1932, Edgar A. Guest.)

"God is a spirit and they that worship him must worship him in spirit and truth."—St. John iv, 24.

By the Rev. Walter Thorpe, Congregational, Brandon, Vt. Next text by the Rev. Arthur Wadsworth, Methodist Church, Whitman.

What the Hearst
Papers Advocate

No. 7
Federal sales tax and social taxes to replace the income tax which has degenerated into a racket.

The Story in St. Paul's Churchyard

By Claude G. Bowers

MILLIONS PASS old St. Paul's Church on lower Broadway, New York, without observing the tall monumental shaft which marks the grave of Thomas A. Emmet, once, and for a long while, one of the leaders of the New York Bar. Most who do read the name, without the long inscription, so much the genius as his younger brother. He was also a patriot, and played his part with the United Irishmen and the rebellion of '98, and he was in prison at the time the younger brother made his ill-starred attempt to effect a successful revolution, and paid the penalty upon the scaffold. It was after the termination of his prison sentence that the older brother came to this country to make a distinguished career for himself. It is not generally known that had a plan he had in mind not been thwarted by the Federalist party in this country Robert Emmet, probably would have escaped martyrdom and have become a brilliant ornament of the United States.

Thomas A. Emmet was an older brother, with many practical ability perhaps, and with many gifts, though hardly so much the genius as his younger brother. He was also a patriot, and played his part with the United Irishmen and the rebellion of '98, and he was in prison at the time the younger brother made his ill-starred attempt to effect a successful revolution, and paid the penalty upon the scaffold. It was after the termination of his prison sentence that the older brother came to this country to make a distinguished career for himself. It is not generally known that had a plan he had in mind not been thwarted by the Federalist party in this country Robert Emmet, probably would have escaped martyrdom and have become a brilliant ornament of the United States.

Curran lived near Dublin at his home called The Priory, where he constantly entertained the choicest spirits of the time. He was the most brilliant conversationalist in England, or Ireland, one of those who scrupled at the dinner table of Lord Holland in London. The love affair had progressed far with many exchanges of love letters, when the Emmet rising occurred. He was taken—because instead of staying in his hiding place he slipped close to Dublin in the hope of seeing Sarah Curran occasionally. As the most favored orator and lawyer in Dublin, the British Government had sought ways to compromise him, possibly to accuse him, and it now had the way. His position as the advocate of the patriots in the courts was weakened. Treason had been committed by his own hand, he consequently refused to defend Emmet at his trial; and Sarah Curran, who loved her father, was momentarily driven to insanity. Emmet's letter to Sarah's brother, seeking to exonerate her, is one of the most pathetic and beautiful in the language.

There was a reason for his refusal to defend Emmet. As the most favored orator and lawyer in Dublin, the British Government had sought ways to compromise him, possibly to accuse him, and it now had the way. His position as the advocate of the patriots in the courts was weakened. Treason had been committed by his own hand, he consequently refused to defend Emmet at his trial; and Sarah Curran, who loved her father, was momentarily driven to insanity. Emmet's letter to Sarah's brother, seeking to exonerate her, is one of the most pathetic and beautiful in the language.

There was a reason for his refusal to defend Emmet. As the most favored orator and lawyer in Dublin, the British Government had sought ways to compromise him, possibly to accuse him, and it now had the way. His position as the advocate of the patriots in the courts was weakened. Treason had been committed by his own hand, he consequently refused to defend Emmet at his trial; and Sarah Curran, who loved her father, was momentarily driven to insanity. Emmet's letter to Sarah's brother, seeking to exonerate her, is one of the most pathetic and beautiful in the language.

There was a reason for his refusal to defend Emmet. As the most favored orator and lawyer in Dublin, the British Government had sought ways to compromise him, possibly to accuse him, and it now had the way. His position as the advocate of the patriots in the courts was weakened. Treason had been committed by his own hand, he consequently refused to defend Emmet at his trial; and Sarah Curran, who loved her father, was momentarily driven to insanity. Emmet's letter to Sarah's brother, seeking to exonerate her, is one of the most pathetic and beautiful in the language.

There was a reason for his refusal to defend Emmet. As the most favored orator and lawyer in Dublin, the British Government had sought ways to compromise him, possibly to accuse him, and it now had the way. His position as the advocate of the patriots in the courts was weakened. Treason had been committed by his own hand, he consequently refused to defend Emmet at his trial; and Sarah Curran, who loved her father, was momentarily driven to insanity. Emmet's letter to Sarah's brother, seeking to exonerate her, is one of the most pathetic and beautiful in the language.

There was a reason for his refusal to defend Emmet. As the most favored orator and lawyer in Dublin, the British Government had sought ways to compromise him, possibly to accuse him, and it now had the way. His position as the advocate of the patriots in the courts was weakened. Treason had been committed by his own hand, he consequently refused to defend Emmet at his trial; and Sarah Curran, who loved her father, was momentarily driven to insanity. Emmet's letter to Sarah's brother, seeking to exonerate her, is one of the most pathetic and beautiful in the language.

There was a reason for his refusal to defend Emmet. As the most favored orator and lawyer in Dublin, the British Government had sought ways to compromise him, possibly to accuse him, and it now had the way. His position as the advocate of the patriots in the courts was weakened. Treason had been committed by his own hand, he consequently refused to defend Emmet at his trial; and Sarah Curran, who loved her father, was momentarily driven to insanity. Emmet's letter to Sarah's brother, seeking to exonerate her, is one of the most pathetic and beautiful in the language.

There was a reason for his refusal to defend Emmet. As the most favored orator and lawyer in Dublin, the British Government had sought ways to compromise him, possibly to accuse him, and it now had the way. His position as the advocate of the patriots in the courts was weakened. Treason had been committed by his own hand, he consequently refused to defend Emmet at his trial; and Sarah Curran, who loved her father, was momentarily driven to insanity. Emmet's letter to Sarah's brother, seeking to exonerate her, is one of the most pathetic and beautiful in the language.

There was a reason for his refusal to defend Emmet. As the most favored orator and lawyer in Dublin, the British Government had sought ways to compromise him, possibly to accuse him, and it now had the way. His position as the advocate of the patriots in the courts was weakened. Treason had been committed by his own hand, he consequently refused to defend Emmet at his trial; and Sarah Curran, who loved her father, was momentarily driven to insanity. Emmet's letter to Sarah's brother, seeking to exonerate her, is one of the most pathetic and beautiful in the language.

There was a reason for his refusal to defend Emmet. As the most favored orator and lawyer in Dublin, the British Government had sought ways to compromise him, possibly to accuse him, and it now had the way. His position as the advocate of the patriots in the courts was weakened. Treason had been committed by his own hand, he consequently refused to defend Emmet at his trial; and Sarah Curran, who loved her father, was momentarily driven to insanity. Emmet's letter to Sarah's brother, seeking to exonerate her, is one of the most pathetic and beautiful in the language.

There was a reason for his refusal to defend Emmet. As the most favored orator and lawyer in Dublin, the British Government had sought ways to compromise him, possibly to accuse him, and it now had the way. His position as the advocate of the patriots in the courts was weakened. Treason had been committed by his own hand, he consequently refused to defend Emmet at his trial; and Sarah Curran, who loved her father, was momentarily driven to insanity. Emmet's letter to Sarah's brother, seeking to exonerate her, is one of the most pathetic and beautiful in the language.

There was a reason for his refusal to defend Emmet. As the most favored orator and lawyer in Dublin, the British Government had sought ways to compromise him, possibly to accuse him, and it now had the way. His position as the advocate of the patriots in the courts was weakened. Treason had been committed by his own hand, he consequently refused to defend Emmet at his trial; and Sarah Curran, who loved her father, was momentarily driven to insanity. Emmet's letter to Sarah's brother, seeking to exonerate her, is one of the most pathetic and beautiful in the language.

There was a reason for his refusal to defend Emmet. As the most favored orator and lawyer in Dublin, the British Government had sought ways to compromise him, possibly to accuse him, and it now had the way. His position as the advocate of the patriots in the courts was weakened. Treason had been committed by his own hand, he consequently refused to defend Emmet at his trial; and Sarah Curran, who loved her father, was momentarily driven to insanity. Emmet's letter to Sarah's brother, seeking to exonerate her, is one of the most pathetic and beautiful in the language.

There was a reason for his refusal to defend Emmet. As the most favored orator and lawyer in Dublin, the British Government had sought ways to compromise him, possibly to accuse him, and it now had the way. His position as the advocate of the patriots in the courts was weakened. Treason had been committed by his own hand, he consequently refused to defend Emmet at his trial; and Sarah Curran, who loved her father, was momentarily driven to insanity. Emmet's letter to Sarah's brother, seeking to exonerate her, is one of the most pathetic and beautiful in the language.

There was a reason for his refusal to defend Emmet. As the most favored orator and lawyer in Dublin, the British Government had sought ways to compromise him, possibly to accuse him, and it now had the way. His position as the advocate of the patriots in the courts was weakened. Treason had been committed by his own hand, he consequently refused to defend Emmet at his trial; and Sarah Curran, who loved her father, was momentarily driven to insanity. Emmet's letter to Sarah's brother, seeking to exonerate her, is one of the most pathetic and beautiful in the language.

There was a reason for his refusal to defend Emmet. As the most favored orator and lawyer in Dublin, the British Government had sought ways to compromise him, possibly to accuse him, and it now had the way. His position as the advocate of the patriots in the courts was weakened. Treason had been committed by his own hand, he consequently refused to defend Emmet at his trial; and Sarah Curran, who loved her father, was momentarily driven to insanity. Emmet's letter to Sarah's brother, seeking to exonerate her, is one of the most pathetic and beautiful in the language.

There was a reason for his refusal to defend Emmet. As the most favored orator and lawyer in Dublin, the British Government had sought ways to compromise him, possibly to accuse him, and it now had the way. His position as the advocate of the patriots in the courts was weakened. Treason had been committed by his own hand, he consequently refused to defend Emmet at his trial; and Sarah Curran, who loved her father, was momentarily driven to insanity. Emmet's letter to Sarah's brother, seeking to exonerate her, is one of the most pathetic and beautiful in the language.

There was a reason for his refusal to defend Emmet. As the most favored orator and lawyer in Dublin, the British Government had sought ways to compromise him, possibly to accuse him, and it now had the way. His position as the advocate of the patriots in the courts was weakened. Treason had been committed by his own hand, he consequently refused to defend Emmet at his trial; and Sarah Curran, who loved her father, was momentarily driven to insanity. Emmet's letter to Sarah's brother, seeking to exonerate her, is one of the most pathetic and beautiful in the language.

There was a reason for his refusal to defend Emmet. As the most favored orator and lawyer in Dublin, the British Government had sought ways to compromise him, possibly to accuse him, and it now had the way. His position as the advocate of the patriots in the courts was weakened. Treason had been committed by his own hand, he consequently refused to defend Emmet at his trial; and Sarah Curran, who loved her father, was momentarily driven to insanity. Emmet's letter to Sarah's brother, seeking to exonerate her, is one of the most pathetic and beautiful in the language.

There was a reason for his refusal to defend Emmet. As the most favored orator and lawyer in Dublin, the British Government had sought ways to compromise him, possibly to accuse him, and it now had the way. His position as the advocate of the patriots in the courts was weakened. Treason had been committed by his own hand, he consequently refused to defend Emmet at his trial; and Sarah Curran, who loved her father, was momentarily driven to insanity. Emmet's letter to Sarah's brother, seeking to exonerate her, is one of the most pathetic and beautiful in the language.

There was a reason for his refusal to defend Emmet. As the most favored orator and lawyer in Dublin, the British Government had sought ways to compromise him, possibly to accuse him, and it now had the way. His position as the advocate of the patriots in the courts was weakened. Treason had been committed by his own hand, he consequently refused to defend Emmet at his trial; and Sarah Curran, who loved her father, was momentarily driven to insanity. Emmet's letter to Sarah's brother, seeking to exonerate her, is one of the most pathetic and beautiful in the language.

There was a reason for his refusal to defend Emmet. As the most favored orator and lawyer in Dublin, the British Government had sought ways to compromise him, possibly to accuse him, and it now had the way. His position as the advocate of the patriots in the courts was weakened. Treason had been committed by his own hand, he consequently refused to defend Emmet at his trial; and Sarah Curran, who loved her father, was momentarily driven to insanity. Emmet's letter to Sarah's brother, seeking to exonerate her, is one of the most pathetic and beautiful in the language.

There was a reason for his refusal to defend Emmet. As the most favored orator and lawyer in Dublin, the British Government had sought ways to compromise him, possibly to accuse him, and it now had the way. His position as the advocate of the patriots in the courts was weakened. Treason had been committed by his own hand, he consequently refused to defend Emmet at his trial; and Sarah Curran, who loved her father, was momentarily driven to insanity. Emmet's letter to Sarah's brother, seeking to exonerate her, is one of the most pathetic and beautiful in the language.